Council to correct dangerous flooding

By JIM CARRAVALLAH

The Romulus City Council took the first of six steps necessary to correct dangerous flooding conditions in the city at Thursday's regular council meeting.

The council unanimously approved an interim storm drain management program prepared by the city's consulting engineers, Wade Trim and Associates.

Adoption of the program is the first step toward a multi-year, approximately $75 million program for meeting Romulus's needs for increased storm drainage capacity — needs which are heightened by the city's burgeoning development.

THE MOST immediate tax increase for the program could be a two-mill increase for financing construction bonds.

A top priority in the project will be the construction of an artificial river which will run along the Harrison Road corridor from Beverly Road to a point on the Huron River just northwest of Flat Rock.

The river will be designed to divert 90 per cent of the run-off now being sent through four drains which flow into the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

THE DRAINS are burdened with flow from the communities of Romulus, Taylor, Dearborn Heights, Allen Park, Wyandotte, Lincoln Park, Brownstown, Riverview, Woodhaven, Trenton, River Rouge and Dearborn.

According to the engineering firm, adding to the present burden could be costly, since the drains flow through highly developed areas, and cannot be improved without high costs of land acquisition.

The Harrison Road drain will be constructed so a major part of its right-of-way can be used for recreational activities during times of normal rainfall.

Likewise, several major drains flowing through the community in the program will be constructed to allow recreational use during all but approximately two per cent of the time.

The firm recommends open drains for all lines carrying water from areas of more than 160 acres as a cost-saving measure.

Funding of the project is recommended by general tax, a plan which allows the city greater flexibility in planning and allows residents the opportunity to write payments off on their yearly income tax.

An alternative to the general two mill tax would be special assessments by drainage districts, a proposal which would add to the city's cost by forcing it to go through special assessment procedures every time an improvement is needed.

RECOMMENDED for next fiscal year is a $377,000 expenditure for preliminary reports on the Harrison Road drain, to be known as the Romulus Storm Relief Drain, along with reports on Hale Creek, Ecorse Creek, the Trouton drain and an initial final overall report for the program.

The initial expenditure also will include the first year's payment on bonds for improvement of Hale Creek and $60,000 for interim drain maintenance.

The next step in adopting the overall drainage program will be submitting the proposal to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) for its review. Approval by SEMCOG could pave the way for federal funds in some of the proposed projects.

With SEMCOG approval, the council will be asked to adopt a city ordinance for financing the project.

It also will be asked to adopt a resolution authorizing a petition for a community-wide program.

THE FIFTH step in ratifying the overall program will be adopting a maintenance program, and including that in the city's capital improvements program.

The final step will be adoption of several state resolutions for the improvement.

No concrete timetable has been set for the six-step procedure.

Huron seeks millage renewal in election

The Huron Board of Education and school administrators are seeking voter approval of a millage renewal proposition in a special election to be held Monday for school operation.

The voters of the school district are to voice their decision on the renewal of 10 mills which expires with the current collection of the 1972 school property tax.

SCHOOL Supt. Bryon K. Antcliff said that the millage renewal is required to maintain present educational services and programs.

The present school tax levy including the 10 mills is 27.83 mills or $27.83 per $1,000 of state equalized assessed property valuation.

The total tax levy also includes 7.18 mills for school debt retirement and 7.65 mills allocated by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board.

THE VOTING precincts will be opened at 7 a.m. and all in line at the 8 p.m. closing time will be permitted to vote.

A defeat of the 10-mill renewal, which is not a tax increase, will result in "serious" cutbacks in services and programs, according to school officials.

In a previous issue of The Romulus Roman, it was inadvertently reported that the special school election was scheduled March 19.

For Enterprise-Roman

New general manager named

Panax Corporation, publishers of The Daily Eagle in Wayne, the Romulus Roman and The Belleville Enterprise has announced the appointment of Robert G. Knoske, 39, as general manager.

Mr. Knoske is a native of Detroit and comes to The Daily Eagle from the Detroit Free Press where he worked in the Retail Advertising Department. He graduated from Denby High School in Detroit and received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Business Administration from Wayne State University in 1960.

Panax Detroit area Regional Manager Ralph Kaziatek made the formal announcement of Mr. Knoske's appointment. According to Kaziatek Mr. Knoske and his wife Shirley and their two daughters will be moving from their home in Madison Heights as soon as a suitable home can be located in the Wayne-Westland area.

"WE ARE pleased to have a man of Mr. Knoske's experience join Panax, The Eagle and Enterprise-Roman staff," Kaziatek said.

"Along with our new editor, Mitch Kehetian, we believe we have the finest young team in the Detroit metropolitan area and we know our readers and advertisers will benefit greatly from their enthusiastic efforts on behalf of the Western Wayne County suburban area."

Prior to his work at the Detroit Free Press, he was Vice-President and Director of Marketing with Adroit Products of Mount Clemens. Following his graduation from Wayne State University, he also worked in advertising sales capacities with American Newspapers

Representatives; Realities Magazine; Cresmer, Woodward, Omara and Ormsbee, Inc. (Newspaper Advertising Representatives); and Maxon, Inc., former Detroit Advertising Agency.

As a sergeant in the U.S. Army 1954-1956, Mr. Knoske served with the Signal Corp as a radio operator in Korea and Japan. He also received special training in the Army Intelligence School, Fire Director School, Communication School, and the U.S. Army Finance Center.

THE LAST SNOWMAN? — Well, maybe, Vicki Wyzykowski and Ray Ebersberger, both 16, and of Romulus, took advantage of Saturday's blizzard that swept through Western Wayne County Saturday to build what they believe will be the last snowman of the winter year. But don't count on the weatherman for cooperating — strange things happen in the spring days ahead. If you haven't checked — Spring officially arrived yesterday.

Commissioners appeal; Court delays jail terms

The area Wayne County Commissioners who recently refused to authorize a pay increase for county probation officers didn't have to go to jail Monday because the court decided to indefinitely delay the proceedings.

Wayne County Circuit Court Presiding Judge Joseph A. Sullivan last week delayed the sentence because the commissioners filed appeals with the Michigan Court of Appeals and the Michigan Supreme court.

The commissioners were supposed to report to the Wayne County Jail at 9 a.m. Monday.

Judge Sullivan last week ordered the commissioners to approve a court-negotiated 5.5 per cent wage increase for county probation officers, under pain of a contempt of court citation for refusal.

The order came even though the commissioners had set 4.4 per cent increases as the ceiling in the county in expediting.

Area Commissioners Brian Arrowsmith, representing Van Buren Township and John N. Sabo representing Romulus were among 20 commissioners who refused to approve the contract.

THE MICHIGAN Legislature stepped into the contract struggle Tuesday.

Thirty-one state senators, including Sen. David A. Plawceki (D-12th District) introduced a resolution supporting the commissioners and asking Attorney General Frank J. Kelley to seek a writ from the state Supreme Court prohibiting the circuit court from taking more action on the matter until "the various questions of separation of powers are determined by the supreme court."

THE STATE House concurred with the Senate resolution, which passed with one dissenting vote from State Sen. Coleman Young (D-4th District).

The commission held a public hearing on the proposal last week.

The project, to be known as the Place de Internationale, will offer 740 units in two 12-story towers and eight five-story towers on a 32 acre tract of land. Rents in the apartments will range from $155 to $175 for efficiency apartments to $198 to $220 for two-bedroom apartments.

The complex will include 32 efficiency apartments, 384 one-bedroom and 324 two-bedroom apartments.

The Romulus Planning Commission Monday night recommended the rezoning of land on Beverly and Merriman Roads for the construction of a proposed $15 million high-rise apartment complex.

The commission held a public hearing on the proposal last week.

The project, to be known as the Place de Internationale, will offer 740 units in two 12-story towers and eight five-story towers on a 32 acre tract of land. Rents in the apartments will range from $155 to $175 for efficiency apartments to $198 to $220 for two-bedroom apartments.

The complex will include 32 efficiency apartments, 384 one-bedroom and 324 two-bedroom apartments.

According to Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, a member of the planning commission, public protest to the proposal was minimal, and confined to residents abutting the project complaining about losing privacy due to the height of the buildings.

"It would be a great boost to the tax base of the city, and is an important addition to the development near the Metropolitan Airport," he said.

THE ONLY matter complicating the rezoning is that Romulus has no high-rise multiple dwelling zoning classification, and an ordinance for that may have to be discussed before the council can grant approval.

Developer of the apartment is the Corral Enterprises, Inc., a Garden City-based developing firm.

THE PROJECT will be spiced with an international motif, including a perimeter road known as "Rue Du Monde" and apartment buildings known as Torre Madrid, La Tour Parisienne, London House, Villa La Rome, Bostonian House, Stockholm Hvs, Casa El Morocco, Singapore Palace, Honolulu House and Munich Haus.

For recreation, the complex will feature the Club de Tahiti, which includes swimming facilities and tennis courts.

Romulus continuing ed program is 'successful'

The Romulus Continuing Education program registered more than 700 participants during its first four weeks of operation in the second semester. Highlights of the winter program include the introduction of youth classes into the previously adult-oriented activities. Youth guitar, karate, modern dance, safe boating, snowmobile safety and transcendental meditation classes have attracted 130 in the six-to-17-year-old age group, according to William R. Smith, community school director.

Credit classes also involve nearly 300 students in adult high school courses such as math, history and science or college level classes in speech, psychology and English.

OTHER services offered by the Romulus Continuing Education program include adult pre-high school classes, adult driver's education, G.E.D. preparation course-work and an official G.E.D. testing service. People should apply early for social security card

Young people should apply for their social security cards several weeks before they'll need a social security number for their first job.

An application for a social security card is generally screened against files at the National Record Center in Baltimore to make sure no other social security number has been previously issued to the same person.

"This screening can take time," said Louis Levine, social security district manager, "but it's important to keep your social security record straight."

A YOUNG worker builds disability, survivors, retirement, and Medicare protection for himself and his family by work and earnings credited to his social security number.

A worker should show his employer his social security card so his name and social security number can be correctly copied for the employer's records," Levine said. "You should never give your employer your social security number from memory. "Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life."

The social security card stub or a record of the social security number should always be kept in a safe place.

"IF YOU LOSE the social security card you carry in your purse or wallet, you can get a duplicate faster if you have the stub or a record of your number," he said.

Levine also reminded those people who wish a duplicate social security card to apply early for a replacement because it will be several weeks before the duplicate can be issued.

Van Buren issues 74 permits

The Van Buren Township Building Department issued 74 permits during the month of February.

Of the permits approved, 10 were issued for residential construction having an estimated construction cost of $87,984. Total fees collected by the building department amounted to $2,441.

There were 17 building inspections conducted by the department in February with fees totaling $159.

Area man gets award from FAA

A Belleville man has been presented with the Tenth Annual FAA Aviation Mechanic Safety Award for the State of Michigan. Governor William G. Milliken presented the award to Robert E. DeBell, senior mechanic for General Motors Air Transport section.

DeBell, who resides at 20749 Martinsville Rd., Belleville, is a 23-year GM veteran and currently is stationed at the company's flight facilities at the Willow Run Airport, Ypsilanti.

The award is given to one person in each state by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). DeBell was named Michigan's 1972 winner for his development of an improved system to adjust and maintain safe operating temperatures of auxiliary power units that are used for ground power as well as for starting aircraft engines.

In the armed services

ARMY PVT. RICHARD E. JACKSON, son of Mrs. Mary D. Jackson 36282 Park Place, Romulus, recently completed a 10-week medical corpsman course at the U.S. Army medical training center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

He learned to perform routine patient care and treatment duties in combat areas, hospital units, dispensaries, clinics and other medical facilities. He also received instruction in the transportation of sick and wounded by ground, air and water means.

ARMY PVT. FIRST CLASS CHARLES C. WOOD, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wood, 29260 Goddard Road, participated with 15,000 American and allied troops in exercise reformation IV in Germany, Jan. 22-26.

PFC. Wood is regularly assigned as a tracked-vehicle driver with Company C, 2nd Battalion of the 1st Infantry division's 16th Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kan.

The U.S. Air Force military airlift command flew approximately 10,000 U.S.-based soldiers and more than 1,000 tons of equipment to three different airfields in Germany in preparation for the event.

Immediately after arriving overseas, the redeployed units drew combat gear and vehicles from prepositioned storage sites in Germany and moved to the exercise area to begin the five-day field maneuver.

Pitted against the airlifted forces were Europe-based elements of NATO forces of the U.S., Germany and Canada.

Emphasis of the maneuver was to test procedures and techniques for receiving and deploying units after they arrive, rather than on rapid air transport of troops from the U.S.

The private is a 1970 graduate of Romulus High School.

Highway bids taken by state

Bids will be taken on 49 highway construction and maintenance projects totaling an estimated $20.7 million on March 28 in Lansing.

The largest project up for bids is for an estimated $6.9 million for reconstruction and relocation of 2.5 miles of Interstate-94 from west of Rawsonville Road, east to near Borgman Road in Wayne County. Included in the project is construction of an interchange with Rawsonville Road at the Wayne-Washtenaw county line.

THE PRESENT four-lane divided freeway was constructed in 1944 as part of the Detroit Industrial Expressway. The 2.5 mile relocated and reconstructed section will be a six-lane, divided facility.

The work includes grading, drainage structures, construction of a six-lane divided freeway and paving.

The 2.5 mile section of I-94 will be relocated just north of its present route near the Willow Run Airport. The work is scheduled for completion in August, 1975.

Income tax suggestion

To assure proper credit of tax payments, area residents should put their Social Security number on all checks or money orders made out to the Internal Revenue Service.

When the IRS receives a payment without an accompanying form or notice, sometimes it cannot properly credit the payment to the taxpayer's account, according to Thomas Cardoza, district IRS director.

"WE PUT payments that we can't identify in a special account until we can later make identification," Cardoza said. "This necessarily delays action on that account."

To avoid such identification problems, Cardoza asked taxpayers to put their Social Security number on their check or money order. You should also note the type of tax and period covered by the payment.

Cardoza said taxpayers should keep money order stubs or canceled checks in case the IRS requests verification of a payment.

Romulus woman gets post

A Romulus woman has been named to the budget committee of United Way of Michigan (UWM). She is Mrs. Carleton K. Rush, 29620 King Rd.

William C. Crick of Flint, committee chairman, said Mrs. Rush would be assigned to a panel of UWM's annual budget conference to be held April 17-18 at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

EACH PANEL will review the budget presentations of two or more UWM member agencies and then make recommendations for the funding of the agencies during 1974.

UWM has 26 health and social service agencies as members. It helps plan programs and provides budgeting services and financial support for them.

Funds for UWM come from 150 local United way campaigns conducted throughout Michigan. The United Foundation is providing $3,226,732 for UWM's member services during 1973.

MRS. RUSH is a director of United Community Services and chairman unit of the United Fund Torch Drive.

WYANDOTTE SAVINGS BANK

YOU'VE GOT A FRIEND ...

There isn't a bank in the country that says it has unfriendly service. After all, who'd want to bank with a bunch of grumps?

But at WSB, we don't think that a smile and a pleasant "good morning" is all there is to friendship. That's just the beginning. From there you go to caring.

At Wyandotte Savings Bank, we get involved...in both our customers and the communities where we're located. We get involved in helping people select the best possible banking services for their particular needs. We know that incomes and goals vary widely. Banking arrangements that are right for one person, aren't at all suited to another.

That's the reason that we like to sit down and talk about the different kinds of services we have available. A lot of people are surprised at the variety of accounts that a full service bank like Wyandotte Savings Bank has to offer. Come in and visit awhile. You don't have to be a WSB customer to find out what we can do for you and your family. Friends help each other and all of our customers know by our actions that at Wyandotte Savings Bank, they've got a friend.

Annapolis gets accreditation

The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH), a national health care survey group, has granted Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, a one-year full accreditation for health care.
The decision, though less than the two-year accreditation the commission is allowed to give hospitals, does not mean that Annapolis is lacking in health care.
"The one-year accreditation means they'll be back in another year to check some of our operations," explained Karl Klicka, M.D., administrator of the PCHA. "We weren't found deficient in any health care but were told there is some work that needs to be done in our records-keeping area."

"THE LAST FEW years there has been more emphasis on the record-keeping aspect of hospital inspections."
"The recommendations of the JCAH have to do with the manner in which we maintain records on programs in the hospital."
"One example of the recommendation is that doctors should keep more explicit minutes of their meetings."
"There were no comments on the health care at Annapolis."
According to Dr. Klicka, the JCAH is not a punitive agency, but more a teaching aid.

"IT'S THE GOAL of the JCAH to make recommendations for improving health care and other aspects of hospital operation," explained Dr. Klicka. "They're more interested in improving hospitals than making sanctions against them."
By not cooperating with the JCAH, however, a hospital could lose its membership in health care insurance groups.
"Insurance groups are pretty lenient about taking hospitals off their accreditation lists," explained Dr. Klicka.
"It often takes a year or more after the JCAH removes accreditation before Blue Cross will remove a hospital from its membership rolls."

leaders, district and county chairman — and is boning up on the issues with a kind of political Head Start regimen.

He honestly believes that the last Democratic candidate for governor, Sander M. Levin, of Berkley, is either out of it before he starts or isn't interested.

Levin, a former state senator and Democratic state chairman, has assumed a low profile since he lost narrowly to Republican Gov. William G. Milliken in 1970.

SINCE THAT TIME he has been in the speculation for U.S. senator, a congressional seat but so far he has preferred to stay active while observing the horror of his party in decline.

Now comes Cavanagh, who stands 2 and 1 at the polls, gunning for some way to indulge the bite of the political bug, a wound that some contend was self-inflicted.

Cavanagh was the Cinderella Boy of Detroit politics, surging out of nowhere to defeat incumbent Mayor Louis C. Miriani in 1961.

He bailed the city out of financial disaster in his first year with an income tax and gave the people a folk hero, a bright, articulate mayor oozing cool.

Cavanagh repeated in 1965 against token opposition and had an undefeated record when he challenged former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in 1966 in the Democratic primary for the U.S. Senate.

WILLIAMS, whose era in Michigan politics restored the Democratic party, won easily and Cavanagh's average was .750.

Cavanagh believes that his voluntary departure from the mayoral suite on the 11th floor of the City-County building at No. 2 Woodward will work for him in 1974.

His problems in the beginning are money and a grasp of the state issues. It's going to be tough to get his 1966 backers to go to the well again with Cavanagh in 1974.

CAVANAGH was weak on the education issues, so he's deeply involved in a committee on community college problems in Western Wayne County.

The report says: "Place de Internationale will be unique among housing developments in all Western Wayne County as it will offer a mode of living that will be permanently fashionable because of the captivating panoramic views from its windows of azure blue skies...of golden sunrises and sunsets, which its residents will simultaneously enjoy along with other vistas of the horizon revealing in bold relief the tempo of life in an urban metropolis as manifest in the seemingly endless procession of jumbo jetliners soaring to and fro about the Detroit Metropolitan Airport, the flickering lights of surrounding cities and passing motor vehicles, the lush green countryside and distant lakes."

Enterprise-Roman editor gets newswriting award

The editor of the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman, Mitch Kehetian, was awarded second place in spot news in the 1972 Michigan Associated Press newswriting contest.

While 15 Michigan daily newspaper men and women were being honored for winning top prizes in the 1972 Michigan Associated Press newswriting contest, two speakers at a panel discussion last week in Lansing took opposing looks at a proposed land use law now before the State Legislature.

The newswriting awards came at an awards luncheon at the Hospitality Inn. Earlier, the opposing views on land use came at a session of the Michigan Associated Press City Editors Association.

INCLUDED among the top newswriting winners was Kehetian. He won a second place award in spot news for his story about tracking down a "missing" Macomb County psychologist and his three children in Sweden.

The psychologist had been the object of a nationwide search since he vanished with his three children in 1967 to avoid arrest on a child abduction warrant.

Kehetian wrote his winning story while serving as city editor of The Macomb Daily, a Mount Clemens-based newspaper. The Daily Eagle, Enterprise-Roman and Macomb Daily are member newspapers of the Panax Corporation.

AT THE LAND use panel discussion, Dr. Billy Taylor, who headed a committee that produced the land use law, said Michigan long has had the tools to properly use its land to produce desirable growth patterns.

But Col. Joseph Parisi, executive director of the Michigan Townships Association, attacked the proposed land use plan as one that would breed "incompetency and astronomical costs."

"People are fed up with the steady encroachment by federal and state agencies on matters that should be handled at the local level," Parisi added.

FIRST PLACE winners in the 'AP' newswriting contest were: John E. Peterson, sports writing, Detroit News.

Huron school budget set for instruction

The Huron School District adopted its budget for the 1972-73 school year at its monthly meeting of the district's school board Monday night.

The budget calls for operating expenses of $2,119,842. The budget for the 1971-72 school year totaled $2,011,755.

Supt. Byron Antcliff said 69.2 per cent of the 1972-73 budget has been earmarked for instructional expenses.

The remainder of the budget will be used to cover the costs in such areas as student activities, transportation, health services and maintenance.

THE BOARD also received bids for the district's proposed purchase of four new school buses.

The proposals were tabled for further study at a special meeting, which will be held next Wednesday at 9 p.m. at Huron Elementary School.

In other action the board announced the appointment of several coaches for the upcoming spring sports season at Huron High School and Huron Junior High School.

Appointments were made in the following sports: Varsity baseball - Ron Smith; junior varsity baseball - Chuck Unseld; ninth grade baseball - Rod McGee; seventh and eighth grade baseball - Gene Smith; girls softball - Carol Sitko; seventh and eighth grade track - John Vartigan.

SCOTT LUDWIG, the band director at Huron High School, also outlined the band's plans for the 1973-74 school year at the meeting.

The board also approved plans for the senior class trip, which will be an excursion to Cedar Point on June 1, 2 and 3.

And he's trying to play it quietly, conferring with large and small groups throughout the state, tossing out ideas, building a base if he can.

There was a meeting of 150 lawyers in Lansing to listen and to encourage his candidacy. Prior to that he huddled with labor and party leaders in a hotel suite.

GOP woos building trades council

By DON HOENSHELL,

Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Republican State Chairman William F. McLaughlin doesn't look like a Trojan horse but anyone careless enough to pat his flanks could get slivers.

He asked the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council to sign on with the Republicans.

"I cannot promise you that everyone will welcome you," he said. "I question whether everyone welcomes you in the other party."

"I cannot promise that everyone will listen to you. I am sure that everyone doesn't in the other party. I cannot guarantee that the (Republican) party would respond to your wishes."

"BUT WE CAN guarantee that we want you, that we will fight to see that you have a voice, an input into the party. To all of you we say: Try us - you'll like us."

It was a high mark in audacity for McLaughlin, whose party is broke and in debt but which won almost everything in 1972 in a numerically Democratic state.

His chore now is to shore up the Republican hard core and keep as many of the Democrats who cross over to President Nixon - to vote against Senator George McGovern - as possible.

THERE WILL have to be more than rhetoric if McLaughlin is to steal the state from the Democrats but roaring into the lion's den is as good a place to start as any.

So McLaughlin, starting another two-year term as party chief, was invited to the traditionally Democratic labor council's legislative conference to talk about bills before the legislature.

He might have boasted of Gov. William G. Milliken's $370 million tax cut program over the next three years, his educational financing plan or the prospects of new GOP-sponsored jobs.

But he said legislation wasn't his bag - his word - and proceeded to unburden himself of a political pitch, described irreverently here as The Thoughts of Chairman Bill. He said:

"FOR ALL MY life I have heard, and it has been generally believed, that Republicans were the party of the fat cats, the Democrats the party of the poor, that Republicans were the party of big business, Democrats were the party of labor."

He said the stereotypes were handy during campaigns but, if they once were true, are no longer valid, that a new day is dawning when all folks of good will should forget the past and dream confidently of the future.

"I believe that a healthy Republican party, a strong Republican party, is vital for a healthy, strong state and nation," he said.

"I do not believe that any political party can truly do a complete job until it has representation within it from all races, creeds, ethnic backgrounds and economic interests."

HE THANKED the council for supporting some Republicans during 1972 and other years and hoped its members would consider keeping up the good work.

McLaughlin called for an open party, then sank a 40-foot putt.

"It has always seemed to me that groups and organizations do not make use of their total strength when they put all of their eggs in one basket," he said.

"It seems to me that there is much merit for an organization to have a major input into both political parties. I would ask you to take a look at us."

McLAUGHLIN was the spokesman for a winner, a pleader of a political cause, going before a traditional enemy with a deal to offer. He said he wasn't talking about legislation.

But behind the glow was the strong impression that legislation will be part of it before 1974. Thus he was talking politics but, at least in part, was meaning legislation. It's one of the finer arts.

Millage renewals

Huron and Van Buren schools need 'yes' vote

When voters in the Huron and Van Buren public school districts go to the polls next week to renew expiring millages — they can cast ballots knowing there will be no increase in school operating taxes.

In the Huron district, the voters will be asked on Monday, March 26 to approve the continuation of 10 mills which expires with the expiration of 1972 school property taxes.

As we are confident responsible school voters will continue the 10 mill it should be pointed out that the millage renewal would seriously affect the operation of Huron schools.

The Huron district needs the 10 mill renewal to retain its present level of sound education — and for the good of the community's educational future.

We urge our readers in the Huron district to vote yes on March 26 for the good of the district's educational future — and that of Huron school children.

At the same time, we repeat our position in the March 28 millage renewal election in the Van Buren school district.

Van Buren voters will be asked to renew 5.5 mills for operation of the district's schools — a millage rate which expired last December.

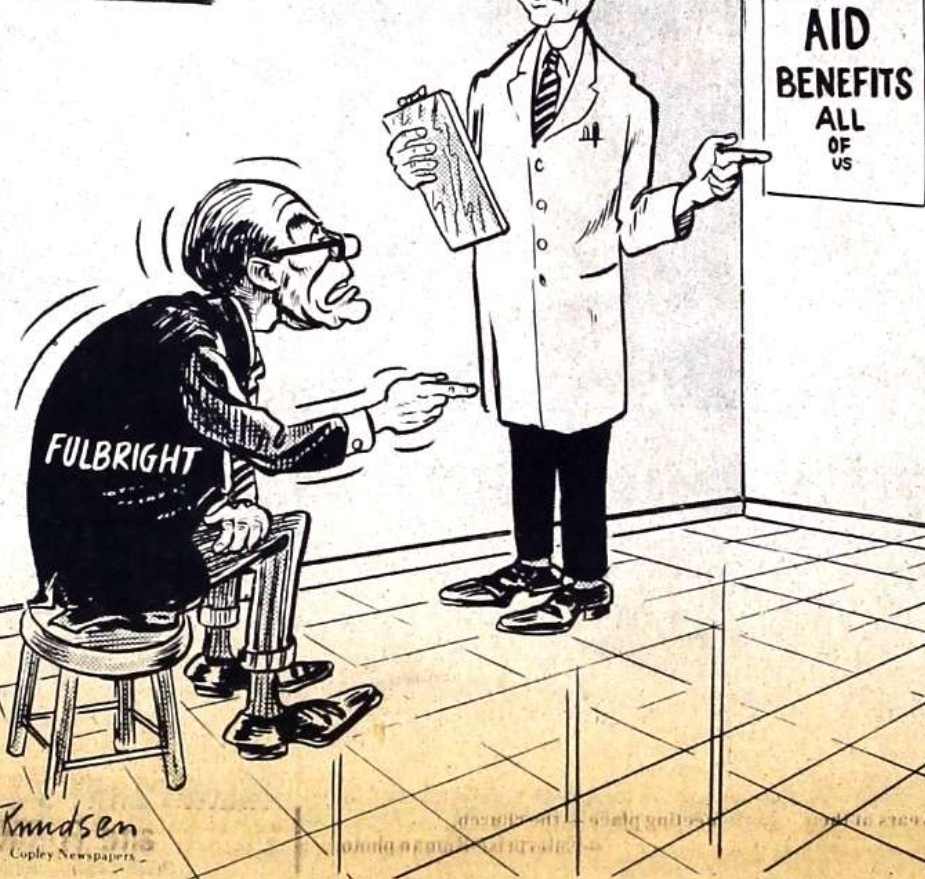

As pointed out by responsible Van Buren school officials, renewal of the millage request will allow the district to continue its current curriculum and extra-curriculum programs. Rejection of this vitally needed millage renewal would trigger severe cuts, commencing with the start of school in September.

In a recent school district study, it was revealed that the Van Buren district ranks 32nd in cost-per-pupil operation — which in this era of high-operating costs is a stroke of financial genius.

And we commend Van Buren's administrative and faculty staff for "holding-the-line" during this period of spiraling school operating costs.

The Van Buren millage renewal request will not require a hike in school taxes. And for presenting a no tax hike millage vote to the people, Van Buren's school leadership is deserving a vote of confidence for better education on election day.

We repeat — Huron school voters will be asked to approve a 10 mill package on March 26, while registered voters in the Van Buren district will go to the polls to renew a 5.5 millage package on March 28 — both renewals should be approved.

Raps 'qualified' amnesty plan for draft evaders

To the Editor:

I am a retired publisher-editor of a weekly newspaper in Nassau County, New York. I would like to compliment you on your editorial in the March 7 issue of the Belleville Enterprise.

The editorial was well written, grammatically perfect and very carefully thought out — an editorial "gem."

But I disagree with your opinion "qualified amnesty for draft evaders."

I oppose amnesty for draft evaders for many reasons, but I will list only three. I am sure your readers will add others.

Reason One: I remembered with sorrow interviews with anguished parents of boys who served in Korea and Vietnam. Their sons either died, were POWs, MIAs, or returned to the USA as litter cases.

Reason Two: My son served in Vietnam with the U.S. Army from December, 1965 until June, 1967. During these seventeen months his wife and young son lived with her parents. We prayed and hoped for his safe return. Our prayers were answered. I thank God each and every night that he is now back home and enjoying a happy home life with his wife and family.

Reason Three: I compare the draft evaders with the immigrants. They voluntarily left their homeland because they objected to "oppression." Here the comparison ends.

The immigrants worked hard to make "this the greatest land on this earth." (This is a direct quote from your editorial.)

The draft evaders are sitting on their "beliefs" in foreign lands "praying" and begging to be allowed to return to the USA with full amnesty.

I hope and pray that they, the draft evaders, are never allowed to return to their homeland. They should in my opinion be in the same category as Nathan Hale "Men Without a Country."

This may be to you and others "cruel and inhuman treatment." I am sure that the parents listed under Reason One would feel that their sons have suffered "cruel and inhuman treatment."

Chamber chatter

The waiting game

by THEODORE F. KUCKELMAN, Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce

Remember Me?

I'm the fellow who goes into a restaurant, sits down and patiently waits while the waitresses finish their visiting before taking my order.

I'm the fellow who goes into a department store and stands quietly while the clerks finish their little chit-chat.

I'm the fellow who drives into a service station and never blows his horn, but lets the attendant take his time. You might say I'm the good guy. But do you know who else I am?

I'm the fellow who never comes back!

It amuses me to see business spending so much money every year to get me back — when I was there in the first place. And all they needed to do was give me some service, and extend a little courtesy.

School Millage Renewal

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met and among one of the important discussions was the renewing of 5½ mills for school operating expenses to be voted on March 28. They have gone on record endorsing the 5½ millage renewal. The millage expired December, 1972 and must again be approved by district electors if it is to be continued. Renewal of the 5.5 mills will not increase the total school tax rate. All residents of the Van Buren School District who are currently registered may vote on March 28.

Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting will be held April 28. Tickets will soon be available for this affair.

The Holland Tulip Time Festival will be held on May 16, 17, 18 and 19th this year.

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Hope for wild life

By TOM OCHILTREE,

Washington Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON — Environmentalists working to prevent the extinction of many species of the world's wild life have received a cheering word of hope from Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich.

In developed and developing countries alike there is a growing desire to protect endangered species, Dingell said. The best approach is to try up the international trade in the skins, feathers, tusks or other parts of such animals.

In a lengthy statement printed in the Congressional Record, Dingell urged prompt Senate ratification of an international agreement designed to halt such trade.

Dingell and Rep. George A. Goodling, R-Pa., served as congressional advisers to the American delegation which participated last month in a Washington Conference on endangered wild-life. In all some 90 national delegations along with observers from six other countries participated.

The conference drafted an agreement which divides a great many wild animals and some rare plants into three categories.

Appendix I lists 375 species threatened with imminent extinction throughout their world range. Trade in these, Dingell explained, "will be prohibited except for essential scientific purposes that are not detrimental to the survival of the species."

Appendix II includes 239 species not yet threatened with extinction but the trade of which must be strictly controlled in order to avoid overutilization.

Appendix III will be prepared after the agreement goes into force and will include any species nominated by a signatory nation which that country has under national protection.

Dingell said the American delegation was able to secure a provision in the agreement to control not only live animals and whole skins, but processed portions of wild animals as well.

"This was an essential element of the trade agreement in The U.S. view," Dingell explained, "since manufactured products containing parts of wildlife are a major cause of the depletion of certain species."

Dingell said it was significant that African delegations at the conference insisted on placing their beautiful leopards and cheetahs on the Appendix I list.

Central and South American delegates were just as anxious to have their jaguars given the highest protection along with the valuable vicuna, the 16th district congressman added.

'Time consuming' Talk, talk, talk

By WES THORP
Lansing Bureau

LANSING — Unwinding after listening to a recent debate on the House Floor, State Rep. William B. Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, said the legislature engages in a lot of unnecessary debate.

"I think we spend too much time on the floor debating," Fitzgerald, a 31-year-old attorney said. "I think we should spend more time in committees."

"This where a lot of differences on bills could be ironed out," he said.

AT THE PRESENT TIME, Fitzgerald said, "there is much needless debate of bills which is very time consuming."

All this talk, he said is hampering legislative efforts in other areas such as economic expansion.

Chairman of the House Economic Expansion Committee, Fitzgerald asserted that "it is very important that we step up to the economic matters."

He was referring to measures which should be explored to make the state more inviting for the location of new industry and the expansion of that which is already here.

BUT EFFORTS to develop such measures, Fitzgerald said, "are going to have to be delayed because we spend so much time on the floor."

Speculating about why legislators spend a lot of time on the floor of the House or Senate, he said it may be a result of pressure from constituents.

"People have the impression that if you are not on the floor that you are not working," he said.

Where the hard and time consuming work is, Fitzgerald emphasized, "is preparing bills for passage."

Monument reopens question

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Editor

In 1910 a man named Moushegh Tarpinian was buried in an unmarked grave in Marseilles, France — but not before he had made arrangements to send his wife and two children on to America for a "better way of life."

The man I speak of was my maternal grandfather after whom I was named.

In recent years I've had the opportunity to visit the ancestral homeland of my grandfather, present-day Soviet Armenia, yet I have not put aside the family pledge to visit Marseilles one day to light a candle at the Armenian church in the French city where my namesake grandfather was buried — in an unmarked grave.

Moushegh Tarpinian fled with his family from the ancient Armenian city of Erzurum, now held by Turkey, to escape certain death at the hands of the Ottoman Turks.

His crime against the Turks was aiding Russian Armenian volunteers who sought to free the city.

At the time my grandfather and his family were about to leave Marseilles for America, he became seriously ill. Rather than delay his family's departure for a better life, he sent them onto America and said "when I get well, I will join you in America."

He died a few days after their departure. He was buried in a potter's field in Marseilles.

Often I thought of the tragedy that gripped my mother's father and lamented that Moushegh Tarpinian did not even warrant a grave marker to inform the curious that such a man lived and died for his family and freedom.

But last month the Armenians unveiled a monument in Marseilles, a memorial dedicated to the more than one million Armenians who perished in Turkey during World War I — and to those who were buried in unmarked graves in foreign lands and the hundreds of thousands who perished in the deserts of Syria during the Turkish massacres of 1915.

The unveiling of the monument in Marseilles had been delayed for six months because of Turkish protests filed with the French government.

But on Sunday, Feb. 11, the French government gave the go-ahead sign to the Armenians of Marseilles to unveil the martyrs' monument in spite of Turkey's threat to recall its ambassador.

The following day, Turkey's ambassador to France, Hasan Isik, boarded an airliner for Ankara. On arrival in Turkey's capital city, he told Associated Press reporters: "I could not remain in a country where an act of injury had been committed against Turkey."

The inscription on the monument in Marseilles reads: "To the memory of 1.5 million Armenians who were victims of a massacre in 1915 under the orders of the Turkish government..."

So it is, 50 years later, and we still find the Turks denying the massacres of 1915. Yet if one were to measure their reasons for recalling an ambassador because of a monument, the action can only be interpreted as being one borne out of a guilt complex.

These are the facts of history and they can't be expunged no matter how many ambassadors Turkey withdraws.

Similar monuments dedicated to the more than one million massacred Armenians can be found in the Soviet Union, Lebanon, Uruguay, Colombia and the United States.

In this country, such monuments can be found in Montebello, Calif., and in Detroit. The Detroit memorial is in the Woodlawn Cemetery.

Are we to construe that Turkey may also recall its ambassadors from the United States? I think not. For without American aid, Turkey would fall by the wayside.

The mentioned monuments serve as a reminder that Turkey has never been called to account for "the forgotten attempted genocide of the century."

And now she complains because the sons and daughters of the survivors are memorializing their slain forefathers.

I am at ease now, knowing that a memorial monument in Marseilles also serves as a grave marker for my grandfather — buried in an unmarked grave somewhere in Marseilles.

And moreso because a monument with a historical fact inscribed on it has again brought to light Turkey's apparent guild complex for a crime she has never acknowledged in the world courts.

Travelers are back after Florida visits

Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-1021

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Potts of Wabash St. recently returned home after having spent the past month in Florida with the former's brother and wife, the John Potts of Mitchell's Bay, Ontario, who are winter residents of Florida.

They also visited former Belleville Rd. residents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keys, at Punta Gorda, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kerbyson at Lake Wales. Besides traveling about the state, Stewart enjoyed some deep sea fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith of Detroit spent Friday of last week with the former's mother, Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty St. Jack, who has been quite ill for some time, is somewhat improved.

K.F.O.C. Intl. President Kenneth and Mrs. Mericle of Denton Rd. were in Chicago on March 9-10-11 where they attended the administrative reunion of the original April 19, 1959, organizational members of the K.F.O.W. Intl. held at the Hotel Palmer House.

Special guests, who met in the original room, were present from Wisconsin, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Missouri, and Kentucky. All were charter members. The affair was hosted by Tom Rankine, founder of the club and first president, and present editor of the Kaiser-Fraser quarterly magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Orr of Dearborn were Saturday evening callers at the Harmony Lane home of the former's brother and wife, the Lloyd Orrs.

Having sold their home on Liberty St. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark moved last Thursday to Fenton where three of their children live. The Clarks, who have lived in Belleville for many years, have taken an apartment in Fenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinton McAtee of W. Columbia Ave. returned home on Monday of last week after having spent 10 days in Florida. At Clearwater they visited a former Belleville resident, Clinton Whitney, and several relatives. They also spent several days with Mrs. McAtee's mother, Mrs. Myrrh Hartman, at Brooksville, and made a trip to Disney World.

Mrs. John Zuroff of Savage Rd. left on Thursday of last week for Stone Mountain, Georgia, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krarup and daughter, Kristin, of Westland. They enjoyed a few days visit with Mrs. Zuroff's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Clayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Agner and family of Main St. moved last week into a newly-built home near Monroe.

Dinner guests on Sunday of last week of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane were members of their family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Orr and daughter, Laura, of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Vaughn of Taylor and Lanny at home.

Mrs. William Graham of Liberty St., Mrs. Harvey Stabnau of Biggs St., and Mrs. James Graham of Potter Dr. attended a bridal shower and 12:30 o'clock luncheon in honor of Marsha Forman, fiancée of Paul Scheinker, held at The Kings Arms Lodge in Southfield on Sunday, March 11. The couple are planning a June wedding.

On Sunday, March 11, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Hopson of Belleville Rd. entertained at a family dinner honoring their grandson, Mark Hopson, on his birthday. Present were his parents, the Thornton Hopsons, his sister Julie, and his maternal grandfather, Jack Byron, all of Detroit.

On Monday, March 12, Mrs. Clyde Woods of Belleville Rd., Mrs. Emma Bowden of E. Huron River Dr., and Mrs. Cora Bradshaw of Bedell St. called on Mrs. Dora Skiff of Romulus to congratulate her on her 90th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sayre of Morton Taylor Rd. spent several days this past week in Washington, D.C. Besides taking care of some official agricultural business, they visited the zoo where they saw the Pandas, toured several places, and enjoyed the warm spring weather and the beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Knop had been transferred from Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey for the surgery. Her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rhodes of East Jordan, have been guests at the Saunders home.

Girl Scout
Troop 269
keeps busy

Girl Scout Troop No. 269 held its Thinking Day Program February 20. The theme of the program was Friendship — A Scouts Own which included a special flag ceremony, a choral reading, Dimes for Daisy, a poem entitled "Why Thinking Day," and songs. The program ended with the song, "Hands Around the World."

The troop also made Valentines for its adopted grandparents at the Van Buren Convalescent Home. On March 2 the girls ventured out to the Home to play bingo. The patients enjoyed the many prizes the girls brought for the winners. The adopted grandparents of the troop are Francis Miller, Sophie Dencher, Susie Potts, Henrietta LaVassuer, Warren Brewer, Mary Hall, John Keeney, Bill Hollister, Bill Wilson, and Raleigh Edwards.

The troop was also very active in selling Girl Scout cookies during the month of February. The cookies will be delivered to all customers at the end of March. They would like to thank everyone who purchased cookies from them as the proceeds of this sale will go towards a trip to Niagara Falls that they are planning for May.

Members of this very active troop are: Terri Caldwell, Kathy Caldwell, Nancy Cameron, Donna Cousino, Roxanne Dulecki, Rhonda Dulecki, Marlene Greca, Ann Haner, Leslie Haner, Karen Holland, Pamela Lowe, Pam Massicotte, Susan Milatz, Tamara Miron, Sheila Owens, Kay Petraska, and Amy Prater.

Also Cindy Rakotz, Sarah Richert, Barbara Roberts, Cheryl Roberts, Ann Rogalle, Kimberley Silvey, Kimberley Verner, and Cheryl Ann Wilk. The troop leader Mrs. E. Wilk, and assistant leader, Mrs. L. Verner, are very proud of the girls who also enjoyed a cluster meeting at Huron Junior High School at which they square danced. An enjoyable evening was had by all.

MRS. WILLIAM P. STAMBAUGH

Trip to Hawaii
follows wedding

In a pre-spring ceremony March 10 at Lakeview Baptist Church in Ypsilanti, Sally Jean Walk became the bride of William Paul Stambaugh. The Belleville couple spoke their vows before the Rev. B. Boaz and following a reception at the P.N.A. Hall near Belleville, departed for a honeymoon in Hawaii.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Walk of 50333 Willis Road, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs.

William Stambaugh of 169 N. Edgemont Street, Belleville. Attending the bride were Margaret Ann Bole of Belleville as maid of honor and her sister, Ruth E. Knox of Milan, the only bridesmaid.

Best man was Craig A. Stabnau of Belleville with Fred Taylor of Belleville performing the duties of usher.

On their return the newlywed Stambaughs will make their home at 243 County Street, Milan.

'You and your car'
is Home Arts topic

Members of the Home Arts Club learned a bit about the vehicle in which they spend a great deal of their time at the March meeting, Monday, March 12. Holding the session in the shop class at South Junior High School, they heard "All you wanted to know about your car but were afraid to ask" presented by Richard Kiessel, industrial arts teacher.

Being locked out, running out of gas and the proper procedure for jacking up a car were included in the discussion along with the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning; the purpose of the temperature gauge; what to do about flooding; and the braking system. Questions were answered as the group discussed problems each had encountered.

At the business meeting which preceded the program, Dorothy Florian, president, announced that Elaine Gutierrez, Charlotte King and Mildred Baker would comprise the nominating committee for the April election. The spring banquet was discussed and guests will be welcome to attend the May 14 event at Leuthauser's in Saline.

Refreshments prepared by Virginia Turney, Florence McKelvey, Doreen Craven, and Theora Wilkie were served at the close of the evening.

Getting married?
Tell us about it

Want to share that 'special day' with those who are unable to be present, in person, for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the 'start of it all.'

Forms may be picked up at our office, 405 Main Street, (we're in the old Township Hall now) anytime during the week or will be mailed out if a telephone request is made. Call the Women's Editor at 697-9191.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

It is a commendable fact that Americans are indeed a truly generous People. ... More than any other people, they prove the truth "It is more blessed to give than to receive" ... Instead of being doomed to brood and suffer in silent agony, countless millions of people in our country and throughout the world have been given nourishment in soul and body by Americans who generously give their time, talent and money for the benefit of others. Why does this happen so often?

Could it be they realize they have no right to be complacent, to believe they have an automatic, inalienable right to moderate or better prosperity? Could it be they realize their own hopes can be pressed down by needs of daily living; that they have no guarantee they will never need help themselves? Could it be they in truth accept and follow the admonition of the Golden Rule? Regardless of reason, isn't it a pleasant sight to see God's hands at work every time we "lend a helping hand"?

Foursome 'does' Las Vegas and area

ATTENDING THE IASIA (International Automotive Service Industry Association) Show, Chet and Mary Kosin of Elwell Road spent from March 7 through 10 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Traveling as guests of the Kosins were Mary's parents, Frank and Margaret Maziarz of Bridgeport.

The Kosins took in the 1973 show at the Convention Center on Thursday and spent the rest of their visit sightseeing and just enjoying themselves. By day the foursome drove to Hoover Dam, Death Valley and Lyle Canyon where the skiing was excellent with lots of fresh snow.

Evenings were spent in the casinos and show places along The Strip including attendance at the Marty Allen Show at the Flamingo; the Don Rickles Show at the Riviera; and the fabulous review at Circus, Circus.

May bride-elect is honored guest

ANSWERING INVITATIONS to a bridal shower for Patti Grey of Romulus last week, some 27 guests arrived at the home of Estelle Mellon in Dearborn for the seven o'clock party. Co-hostesses were Grace Smith of Livonia and Don-najean Mattingly of Plymouth.

Bunco was the entertainment for the evening with the bride being presented with the miscellanea for her new apartment after each round. Prize winners, presented with hand-made dried flower arrangements were the bride-elect's mother, Frances Grey of Romulus, first, and Janet Zurowski of Livonia, low.

A do-it-yourself salad bar was next on the agenda after which the group watched Patti unwrap the remainder of her presents. Giving her a hand were her future attendants, Linda Bower of Sylvania, Ohio (her former roommate at Michigan State), her sister, Janie Grey, and two cousins, Karen Grey of Wayne and Sheila Sprunk of Trenton.

Patti will be married May 26 at the Student Chapel at MSU. Her fiancé, Paul Forster of Mason, is a senior engineering student at State.

Local Kiwanians

guests of Dearborn

BELLEVILLE KIWANIANS and their wives shared a ladies night last Thursday with their counterparts from Dearborn Heights. Dave Baronian, food services director for Van Buren Schools and a member of the Heights Club, planned the evening activities which took place at North Junior High School.

The group, about 80 in all, was welcomed by George Cupchak, president of the host club, after punch and hors-d'oeuvres had been served.

Following a buffet dinner, Don Meyer, president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, introduced guests at the head table and then turned the proceedings over to Dave Baronian. He presented the Belleville High School Glee Club which performed several numbers under the direction of Mrs. Louise Pitcher.

The Dearborn Club then reciprocated with entertainment by the Crestwood Pep Band, an 11-piece brass and percussion ensemble under the leadership of student director, Mark La Fever.

Exchange student speaks to class

THE FIFTH GRADE social studies class at St. Anthony's School taught by Mr. Deeks, had a guest speaker March 14. In keeping with their current studies of South America, Mary F. Kosin was invited to tell of her experiences during her stay in Rio, Brazil as an exchange student last summer.

She told about the people she lived with, the places she had visited and what she had learned about the country and its way of life.

A mounted piranha from the Amazon, a Bahia doll, a coffee bean necklace, Brazilian money, and lots of pictures were all part of her lecture. Mary's brother, Chester Kosin III, who is a fifth grader, assisted by showing the pictures and articles to his classmates.

Mary went to South America as an American art exchange student in conjunction with Youth for Understanding.

Polynesian pork brings spring to the table

Looking forward to the newness and freshness that spring brings lifts the spirits. So does serving something different for dinner — something that suggests warm winds and sunny skies.

You can achieve a pleasant Polynesian atmosphere with this recipe using cubes of savory pork to advantage. It's a delightful way to bring an early spring to your table.

Cubes cut from the pork shoulder are generally a good buy, advises Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock & Meat Board.

POLYNESIAN PORK
1½ pounds boneless pork shoulder, cut into ¾-inch cubes
1 can (13½ ounces) pineapple chunks
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon mace
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 green pepper, cut in thin strips
1 cup water
3 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon soy sauce
Drain pineapple and reserve juice. Brown pork cubes in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add salt, pepper, mace, chopped onion, green pepper strips and water. Cover tightly and simmer 1 hour or until done. Combine cornstarch, brown sugar, lemon juice, soy sauce and reserved pineapple juice. Pour over meat mixture and simmer 5 to 10 minutes or until sauce is thickened. Add pineapple and heat through. Serve over rice or Chinese noodles. 6 servings.

Does one catch butterfly chops?

No, you don't catch them in a net on a warm spring day. Butterfly chops, cut from the pork loin, are available in many meat markets. It's also easy to "butterfly" sections of the loin at home.

Purchase either boneless pork loin or the bone-in meat. (If the bone is present, remove it by running a sharp knife between the bone and meat.) Cut the loin into slices 1½ to 2 inches thick. Cut each slice almost in two from fat side, knife parallel to surface of meat. Use care to cut only to opposite edge of chop so that the meat is hinged together. Separate and spread the two sides of pork so that the chop lies fairly flat.

Dress up salad

For a delicious salad marinate cooked snap beans in French dressing and add thin strips or rings of red onion.

At Ford Museum

Sports cars and fashions are nostalgic combination

The newest look in the fashion world is a nostalgic glimpse into the past. Designers have taken the best of the fashion ideas identified with the 20s, 30s, 40s and the 50s and molded them into a new entity destined to become the style of the 70s.

This 70s "Classic Look" will get an airing uniquely suited to its aura of the past at a fashion show at the Henry Ford Museum Theater on March 23. Called "Collectors' Classics," it is being presented in connection with the current Sports Cars in Review at the Museum which, appropriately, is highlighting Sporting Cars of the Classic Era, including a black and white 1937 Thunderbird lent to the show by Charles M. Henry of Belleville.

Fashions and copordination for the show are by Jacobson's of Dearborn. Clothes include designs by Teal Traina, Donald Brooks and Kasper. Fashions range from high-style Harlow-type formals to the studied casualness of the tennis look. The classic look in men's fashions will be represented by clothes from Jacobson's Mr. J. Shop.

Jackie Crampton, well known Detroit area fashion authority, provides the commentary for the show which features 45 different ensembles.

Two presentations of "Collectors' Classics" are scheduled for the Henry Ford Museum Theater on Friday, March 23 — one at 8:00 p.m. and one at 9:15. The Museum will remain open that evening for the Sports Cars in Review exhibition, and there is no additional charge for the fashion show beyond the regular Museum admission of $2.25 for adults and $1.00 for children 6 through 14. Children under six are admitted free.

The classic beauties of the sports car world are being featured in the 21st annual Sports Cars in Review at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn until March 25. Titled, "Sporting Cars of the Classic Era," the show features 65 vehicles from seven countries dating from 1896 through the present and even into the future.

The largest sports car show of its kind in the country, Sports Cars in Review traces the developments in design and engineering in this specialized automotive field. A mini show in the Review called "Pull Instead of Push" features 13 front-wheel drive sports cars from 1925 to 1973. Another section traces the evolution of classic design comparing a 1973 Squire SS 100 which is based on the 1937 Jaguar SS 100 and the Excalibur SS, based on the Famous Mercedes SK of the 20's.

THE CLASSIC LOOK — A nostalgic glimpse into the past is the newest look in the fashion world today. Designers have taken the best of the fashion ideas identified with the past five decades and molded them into a new design destined to become the style of the 70's. At the press preview of the up-coming fashion show slated for March 23 at the Henry Ford Museum Theater, we found Belleville's own Betty Archer modeling for Jacobson's of Dearborn who will present fashions by Teal Traina, Donald Brooks and Kasper. In conjunction with "Collectors' Classics" (as the show is titled) is the current Sports Cars in Review at the Museum. Providing the background for Betty's sensational outfit is the 1937 black and white Thunderbird lent to the show by Charles M. Henry of Belleville. Perfectly classic is John Anthony's button down cardigan jacket of the softest wool worn by Betty in navy, with raglan sleeves and four patch pockets. Combined with elegant pants of white wool topped with a skinny navy belt, it forms the perfect combination for the sheerest of silk chiffon blouses in navy and white polka dots.

Haggerty Scouts camp out at lodge

Girl Scouts from Troop 668 of Haggerty Elementary School, held their lodge camping trip at Camp Hilltop in Ann Arbor, Mar. 16-17-18. Approximately 27 persons attended, including troop leader, Mrs. Lou Wilkinson; assistant leader, Mrs. Joyce Phillips; and Mrs. Barbara Thomas, all of Belleville.

Activities over the weekend included a two-mile hike, an early morning Flag ceremony, and making wastebaskets from styrofoam egg cartons and yarn. Games were played and songs were sung. The piano in the lodge was played by scouts who are currently taking lessons.

The girls had the responsibility of planning a menu for the weekend camping trip. The menu included flapjacks and sausages, hamburgers and French fries, bacon, tomato and lettuce sandwiches, tomato soup, cherry pie, and popcorn. The girls did all of the cooking and cleaning afterwards.

The troop would like to thank the McCulley Egg Farm in Plymouth for donating 300 egg cartons, and Mrs. Kingly, music teacher of Haggerty School, for making copies of songs selected for the trip for all of the scouts.

Future plans include a roller skating party to be held April 11.

For the coming Easter holiday the scouts will make flower arrangements at their regular weekly meeting.

Romulus students dance for senior citizen club

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club was entertained last Thursday when the dancing class pupils of Mr. Tom Ellis of Romulus put on a performance. The children ranged in age from 10 to 14. Dressed in Scottish plaid costume, Laura Cawthon soloed in the Scottish lilt. Dressed as an Irish colleen in vivid green she also danced an Irish jig.

In Scottish plaid costumes, Terry Lewis, Adair Alexander, Sheann Trews, Jeanne Ewing, Marylou McKay, Flora McDonald, and Cheryl MacMillan danced the highland fling.

JEANNE EWING, Marylou McKay, Adair Alexander and Terry were very pleasing in the reel, according to the club. Little Cheryl MacMillan in sailor white gave a performance of the sailor's horn pipe, as did small Terry Lewis when she danced the difficult sword dance. All the children performed with ballet grace and skill and are a credit to their teacher, the senior citizens said.

SCOTT CAWTHON in his family plaid kilt costume accompanied the dancers on his Scottish bag pipes. Scott is an accomplished piper having played the pipes since he was eight years old. The club's next meeting will be tomorrow night when club members will be entertained by a childrens group.

Local oil dealer goes to Nevada

A Romulus Standard Oil dealer and his wife attended a dealer convention in Las Vegas, Nev. They are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wells.

More than 800 dealers attended the convention March 13.

At a brief business meeting, dealers heard about the company's upcoming advertising and sales programs which will feature singers Johnny Cash and Connie Stevens.

The group also enjoyed entertainment on the famed Las Vegas "Strip," that included dining and floor shows at the Dunes Hotel and Caesars Palace. The group returned to their hometowns on March 15.

New state rules for tenant security deposits for apartments, rented rooms and houses will become effective April 1.

The new legislation establishes for the first time specific procedures for reimbursing a landlord for actual damage to his property, while protecting the renter from misuse of his deposit.

Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) said that the law limits security deposits to no more than an amount equal to one and one-half month's rent, and specifies that the money is the property of the tenant.

LANDLORDS can use the deposits only for damages to the rental unit which are the direct result of "conduct not reasonably expected in the normal course of habitation of a dwelling," for unpaid rent, unpaid utility bills, or early departure.

"The proof of keeping some or all of the deposit will be upon the landlord," Faust said. "If a tenant objects to losing his deposit, the landlord must prove in court that he has a right to keep the money."

Sen. Faust said the law also requires a check list for the rental unit, both before the tenant moves in and after he leaves.

Holy Season is meant to wake Christians up

Note: The following is the third of a series of Lenten sermons by area pastors and leading churchmen. This week's article was submitted by Rev. Raymond S. Skoney, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Belleville.

By FR. RAYMOND SKONEY

We are all fond of snuggling into cozy ruts, the deeper the more comfortable. These ruts gradually take on our shape and we wiggle ourselves and sleep with fewer and fewer twists and turns.

If this is true of our everyday life, it is especially true of our spiritual. Intentionally or not we ease ourselves from Christ inch by inch. Christ's Church, however, likes to see us wide awake spiritually.

GOOD MOTHER that she is, the Church sets her alarm for the Holy Season of Lent to snap us back, to wake us up, and to actually pull us out of the deep comfortable cozy ruts that we are so fond of and which are so dangerous.

She urges each of us to develop a spirit of mortification, of self denial, in regards to food, drink and worldly amusement; to pray more fervently and devoutly; to actively participate in the Liturgy more frequently in exercises of piety; to give more generously to works of religion and charity; to perform acts of kindness toward the sick, the aged and the poor.

OF ALL these perhaps self denial is the most difficult because human nature is dead set against the whole idea of abnegation. There are three positions that a man can take on this issue of self denial.

The first is simply to challenge the principle of self denial and thus reject it. The second alternative is to endorse the principle but question the practice by claiming that the daily round of normal life provides all the penance that anyone needs. The third choice is to accept Christian self-denial both in principle and in practice and during Lent make the body feel some sting of want through volitional deprivation of some accustomed satisfaction.

During Lent we follow the footsteps of the Master who gave His yes to the Father when it was time for Him to go to Jerusalem that was written by the prophets may be accomplished. "He will be delivered up to the pagans. He will be mocked, outraged, and spat upon. They will scourge Him and put Him to death and on the third day He will rise again."

HE AND we together are going along the road of lent to the Holy City of the Passion, the Death and the Resurrection. Are we with Christ all the way? Are our minds and hearts identified with His? His yes must find an echo in us now at the beginning of lent. It must grow in intensity of conviction till it reaches the perfection of His self-sacrifice on the cross.

State bonuses plan introduced by Mahalak

State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced a bill making it possible for certain veterans or their beneficiaries to collect state bonuses for World War II service.

The state bonuses were established by the Veterans' Military Pay Act of 1947. It covered Armed Forces service between Sept. 16, 1940 and June 30, 1946. Eligible veterans or their survivors were offered bonuses of $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 a month for foreign service.

The deadline for filing for the bonuses ran out several years ago.

"HOWEVER," Mahalak said, "there were some persons who were ineligible today. As things are today, there is no way that they can get the benefits. My bill would correct this by amending the old law to permit these persons to file with the court of claims a claim for benefits. If the court finds that they are now eligible, the money would be theirs."

Mahalak, as chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans' Affairs, is recognized as an authority on veterans' legislation.

"I do not feel it was the intent of the legislature, in passing this bill, to deny these benefits to anyone who was eligible. However, there was a cutoff date for applications. This left a certain number of persons who have since become eligible without means to obtain the bonus, even though it is now rightfully theirs. This is an injustice and should be promptly corrected."

COUNTRY GARDEN BLOOMS IN COURT — Front courtyard is lifesaver for older home on small lot. Gardening becomes easy — care in neat border beds, raised western cedar planters. Traffic noise and street distractions are blocked by tall board and batten fencing; Douglas fir 2x4s floor the comfortably private patio room.

Decks can ease yard work

When a family contemplating yard remodeling decides there is, literally, no room in its life for a lawn-mower, what is the answer? You can't just pave it and paint it green.

One solution views entry, side yard and backyard as interrelated areas that complement and flow into one another. Continuous decking can be the unifying link, a pattern repeated in areas sized and shaped to particular needs.

While paved expanses look monotonously cold and institutional, varied grain and

Downpayment plan offered

Mobile homeowners may soon be able to offer their present dwelling as a downpayment toward the purchase of a new mobile home, the Department of Housing and Urban Development said recently. Used homes will acquire a "bluebook value," for trade-in purposes.

warm tones of wood shine through semi-transparent stains to liven spacious applications.

BECAUSE decking is laid level atop footings above the ground, little grading is required, and a slope needs only the appropriate number of steps. Natural or designed levels, in fact, are an attractive way to separate activity areas.

Douglas fir 2x4's are strong, available, and a sound choice for such projects, though deck members in actual or near contact with the ground should be preservative treated. Less than 1 1/2-inch thick lumber is not recommended.

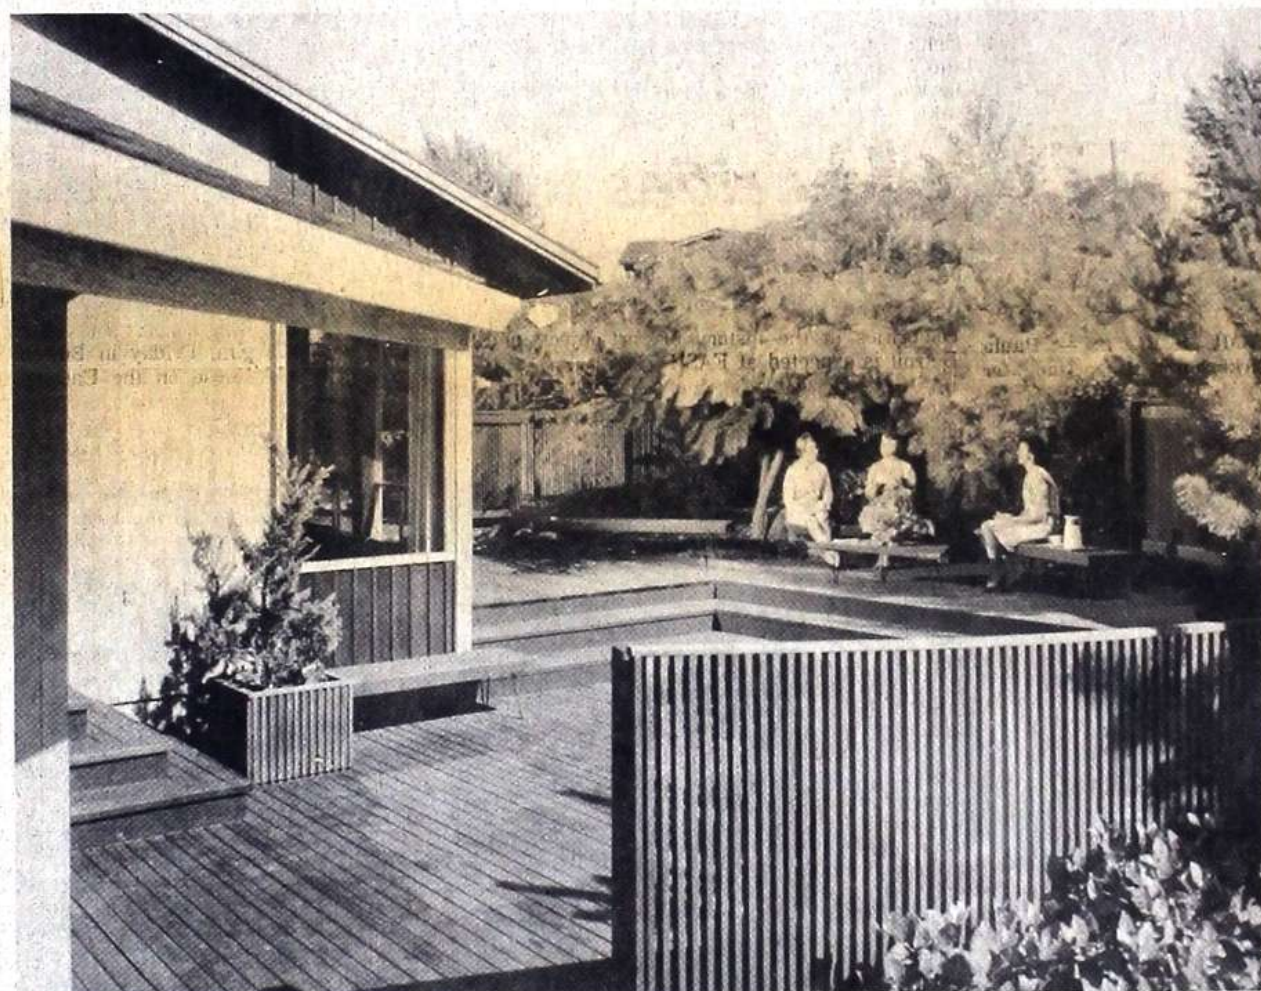

When decking takes over the garden's role, good amenities are needed to make the plan work. Hedge-height 1x2-inch slat fencing in a modified sawtooth line affords privacy from the street. Benches and tables lend a furnished look to conversation corners.

TO ADD living accent to the entry, place a planter near the door. Style and color can relate to house siding or the door itself. If a fence is in sight, its pattern may influence planter styling. Wood strips over boards neatly imitate a slat fence or board and batten siding.

Foliage can suit the season when two interchangeable planters are used. One permanently displays an evergreen shrub for cool seasons, while the other can progress from bulb color in spring to early, then late summer favorites.

In court

Country garden blooms

Older-home enthusiasts can find much to admire in vintage architecture, but admiration frequently fades on the front doorstep.

Houses scaled to fill the lot allowed little space for usable yards. Often, they're too close to the street for comfort. And the years bring on another complaint, unrewarding foliage from overgrowth and soil depletion.

A YARD near or on the decline can take new life from a front or side courtyard with privacy screening, decking and well-arranged new plantings. A renovation effort is well worth it, even when building codes restrict setbacks.

Fencing may be in solid or spaced patterns, cut for comfortable seclusion, openness should be a design impression and not a reality. Traffic and location dictate this choice. In any case, build to maximum height allowed.

Easy and inexpensive board and batten fences offer a variation that lightens the effect of solid walls, particularly when painted to match the house. Wider boards such as 1x8s cut construction time and four to six foot sections on 4x4-inch posts neatly bridge flat or sloping land.

COURTYARD flooring probably will adjoin existing paving or porches. Wood decking is a livelier choice for the new application than trying to match the old materials.

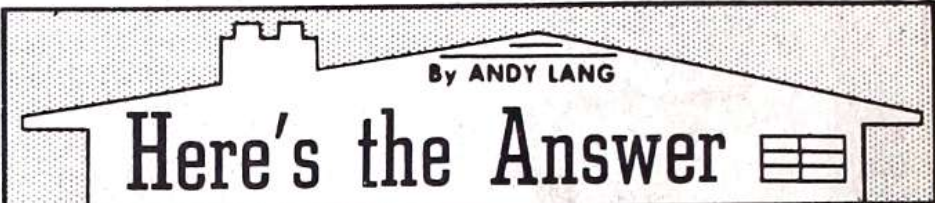

Stained wood's warm tones give an older home a fresh outlook and fir 2x4s make a tough decking in a clean pattern that suits all house styles.

To recreate "country" gardening where blooms seem to appear naturally, carefully plotted beds can be vitalized with new topsoil and planters filled with special soil mixtures to suit favorite flora. Raised beds edged with heart cedar or treated lumber have the neat look of planters, but their more normal drainage makes watering and daily care more casual.

COURT furnishings should be weather-resistant — benches built into corners and along house walls are easily included in court planning.

Q. — I received a jack plane as a gift. No instructions came with it. I have used a regular plane for years. This one looks very much the same but is a bit shorter. Is there a special use for it?

A. — Presumably, the "regular" plane you have is a bench plane, usually used for all-purpose work. The jack plane is actually one of the several varieties of bench planes except that it has a slightly rounded blade to avoid ragged edges. It is excellent for removing rough surfaces preparatory to smooth finishing.

Q. — Our basement walls are often dripping with water. At first I thought it was some kind of leak, but I have now determined that it is only condensation. The walls are of poured concrete and have never been painted. Will painting the walls stop the condensation?

A. — Not very likely. The condensation occurs because the warm, moist air in the house is hitting the cooler surface of the concrete. If the walls are painted, the paint surface also will be cool and you will still have condensation. You have to trap some of the moist air with a dehumidifier or move some of the air out of the basement, using an exhaust fan at one end that need be turned on only periodically, and a slightly open window at the other end. In mild cases, opening a basement window two or three times a day for about half an hour at a time will be sufficient to eliminate the condensation. Still another solution is the installation of several vents, perhaps in the wood portion just above the foundation. The vents must, of course, be above the surface of the ground.

Q. — I guess I'm old fashioned, but I have no portable electric drill and still use a twist drill that has been in the family for more than 40 years. Lately the drill has begun to squeak when it is being used. What causes this?

A. — You are probably turning the handle too fast. When this happens, the drill bit moves so rapidly that the chips are not cleared from the flutes or twisted portion of the bit. Try drilling more slowly. And occasionally lift the bit out of the hole to clear the chips.

SHOW CHARACTER — Ken Moses of the Pickwick Puppet Theatre displays one of the puppet show characters used in the presentation of three Rudyard Kipling's "Just-So Stories." at the Haggerty Road Elementary School in Belleville. The New York group's performances was sponsored by the school's PTO.

Students see three puppet shows

The Pickwick Puppet Theatre recently performed three Rudyard Kipling's "Just-So-Stories" at the Haggerty Road Elementary School, 3110 Grove St., Ypsilanti, a school affiliated with the Van Buren Public School District.

Theatre from New York City is best known for its musical productions using puppets and classical music.

THE STORIES are titled "How the Camel Got His Lump," "How the Rhinoceros Got His Skin," and "How the Elephant Got His Trunk." After the performances there was a workshop session for representatives from all the grades in the school.

These programs are sponsored by the Haggerty School's Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) and arranged by the Detroit Institute of Arts and partially financed by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

EMU SOLOIST — Paula Parkinson, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cucchiara, 37130 Eureka Road, Romulus, will be the clarinet soloist when the Eastern Michigan University-Civic Symphony Orchestra performs "Concerto for Clarinet and String Orchestra" by Seiber. Seven student soloists will perform with the orchestra, directed by Edward Szabo, in a concert at 8 p.m. March 22 in Pease Auditorium. The public may attend.

Demonstrations slated by Historical Museum

Gunsmith demonstrations, powder horn making, printing press operation and a Pomander Ball Workshop have been planned for March 31, with all but the Pomander Ball Workshop repeated on April 1 at the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby.

The gunsmith demonstration will be given by Larry Brock, a modern day craftsman who delights in reproducing flintlock weapons of 200 years ago. Starting with a plank of curly maple, Larry dries it and spends over 100 hours cutting, shaping, carving and finishing it. More ornate stocks include silver or brass inlays Larry also crafts. He purchases the barrels and lock castings, but filing, polishing, finishing and then adding the delicate engravings add more hours.

POWDER HORN making and engraving will be done by Al Mille, beginning with a raw horn. The various stages of boiling, forming, scraping, polishing and engraving to the finished powder horn used by our forefathers will be demonstrated.

In the Print Shop, the 1840 Columbian Hand Press will be in operation. There are less than a dozen of these in existence and the Detroit Historical Museum is fortunate to have one of these in operating condition.

Other things to do — visit with the Proprietors in the Streets of Old Detroit and learn about the wares used by Grandma and Grandpa (some so different today — others have changed not at all) — watch spinning and weaving by volunteer Girl Scouts — then see the Williamsburg film on gunsmiths.

'Black tie' audience to see Lost Horizon

A socially prominent, black-tie audience will attend the Variety Club's benefit premiere of Ross Hunter's production of "Lost Horizon" at 5 p.m. Wednesday, March 28.

This musical adaption of James Hilton's famous novel, yet to be released in the United States, will also be viewed a few nights previously by Queen Elizabeth at a London command performance.

IN ORDER to facilitate travel-time and allow each side of the city to share in the event, two theatres have been selected for the exclusive showing. They are the Towne Theatre, 26300 Greenfield Road, Oak Park, and the Eastland Theatre, 19340 Vernier Road, Harper Woods.

Tickets to the Benefit Premiere and an Afterglow Party are $50 per person. Contributions are deductible from income taxes. Information and tickets can be obtained from the Variety Club Growth and Development Center at Childrens Hospital, Inc., 132 N. Woodward-Suite A, Birmingham, Michigan 48011. The telephone numbers are 642-5100 and 564-6800.

All of the funds raised by the Benefit Premiere go directly to the Growth and Development Laboratory and Center at Childrens Hospital.

Old village reconstructed

A walk down a wooden sidewalk, the smell of fresh home-made bread, and the sounds of the blacksmith's hammer striking the anvil live, not only in our memories, but also in Old Bagdad Town. This historic old village has been faithfully reconstructed by Elvan Yoder's staff.

Yoder is the president of Rockome Gardens, Arcola, Ill. With the same imagination and vision that he has displayed in making Rockome into one of the top attractions in the Midwest, Yoder has turned his attentions to Old Bagdad Town.

The original town was founded by the Indians along the banks of the nearby Kaskaskia River. When the settlers first started moving west, they built a bridge across the river at the sight of the Indian village. This was the beginning of Bagdad, Illinois.

THE ONLY MEANS of travel was by foot, horse, or wagon, so the bridge was the center of east-west travel in central Illinois. Bagdad thrived on the influx of new people and soon became one of the largest towns in the area. During these days few would have believed that Bagdad would be nothing more than a ghost town in a few months.

That was just what happened, however, when the railroad engineers and surveyors decided to put the tracks three miles to the east of Bagdad. The town soon died and another center of travel was developed at Arcola. All that remains of Bagdad today is the old cemetery with its dates prior to the births of the more famous ghost towns of the old west.

The reconstructed Old Bagdad Town boasts the sights that were common in the original town in its heyday. The covered sidewalk takes visitors past the blacksmith shop where an Amish blacksmith works throughout the day making horseshoes both for sale and for the many horses used by Rockome Gardens.

Next to the smith's shop is the harness shop. Here too, the Amish craftsmen make items both for sale and for Rockome. Further down the walk is the new calico crafts building.

Among the many features of this shop will be handmade bonnets and dolls. To the rear of the store candle dipping will be demonstrated. A little further along is the barber shop, complete with the 10-cent bath. The general store features items on its shelves that were sold at the turn of the century. Also, rug weaving is demonstrated near the front door. At the end of the walk is the livery stable.

THIS IS WHERE the horses are kept when they are not working.

Old Bagdad Town is located just west of Arcola and I-57. Just follow the signs to Rockome Gardens. The new season opens May 1, 1973.

Blossom Queen to be crowned in Washington

When Washington, D.C.'s Cherry Blossom Queen is crowned April 13, she'll be worth a quarter of a million dollars.

That's the estimated value of the famed Mikimoto crown which will be placed upon her head as the annual Cherry Blossom Festival draws to a close.

THE GIRL who wins from among the field of 52 won't get to keep the crown, of course, but she'll get to wear it, briefly, which is closer than most people get to a quarter million dollars. And she'll receive a miniature replica of the crown, plus a pearl necklace, from Mikimoto as a remembrance, just for her trouble.

This year's winner will be the 17th girl to wear the crown, fashioned by the same artisans who constructed the Japanese imperial crown and the emperor's royal crown.

Yoshitaka Mikimoto of the famed Mikimoto Pearls, Inc., company of Japan donated the crown in 1957. He personally supervised its production and discarded various designs for considerably less valuable crowns. It required 50 days for 15 craftsmen to make the crown.

Spring concert slated April 1

The University of Detroit Chorus and the Singing Titans will present a spring concert on Sunday, April 1, on the U of D campus, McNichols Road at Livernois in Northwest Detroit.

Titled "Swing Into Spring," the program will be given at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the Ford Life Sciences Building Theater.

Admission to the concert is $2 for adults and $1 for students. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

THE CROWN is studded with 1,589 pearls, the largest 23 mm. in diameter, and the smallest, clustered on the points of the crown, measure 12 mm. The crown is eight inches in diameter and contains 38 ounces of 14-karat gold.

The crown reposes in the vaults of the U.S. Treasury between annual festivals. This year Japanese Ambassador Nobuhiko Ushiba will again present the crown to the queen on behalf of Mikimoto.

The 1973 festival is scheduled April 7-14 with princesses representing the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Guam.

EMU concert set Friday

YPSILANTI — Tickets at $2, $3 and $4 are on sale for the B. B. King concert scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday in Bowen Field House on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

B. B. King, whose real name is Rely B. King, began his career as a choir boy. The former sharecropper would sing spirituals in church and at home, confining his blues singing to the fields because his family thought it was "disrespectful."

HE BOUGHT an $8 guitar when he was nine and began to practice daily, listening to other blues singers and relating his own experiences through song.

Now 48, King is known as "King of the Blues" and attracts audiences from various ages and backgrounds.

Tickets may be purchased at the Ann Arbor Music Mart in Ann Arbor, at the Huckleberry Party Store and the McKenny Union Ticket Office on the EMU campus in Ypsilanti, Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn, Schoolcraft Community College in Livonia, the University of Toledo, and at J. L. Hudson Co. stores.

Celebrities set to model clothes

A major gathering of celebrities in the history of Detroit is expected at FASH-BASH III, the fashion auction and dance benefiting the Art Institute Detroit Youth Theatre Monday.

Some 15 stars of broadcast, journalism and sports will model clothes to be auctioned off their backs, and another 50 celebrities around town will be in the audience urging on the bidding and — to use a show business phrase — laughing it up.

SPONSORED by the Junior Council of the Detroit Institute of Arts Founders Society to aid the live stage programs of the museum, FASH-BASH III will also offer free food and dancing to the 21-piece Brookside Jazz Ensemble in the Riverview Ballroom of Cobo Hall from 6:30 to 11:30 p.m.

The celebrity fashion auction part of the "bash" will be 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Tickets may be picked up at the Art Institute for a $6.25 contribution to the Detroit Youth Theatre. More than 250,000 Detroit area pupils are enjoying this year's season of live entertainment in the auditorium or in the schools themselves.

WEARING fashions donated by Hughes & Hatcher, and under the auction gavel of Lawrence DuMouchelle, who ordinarily bids up high-priced art objects and antiques, will be:

Sports heroes Gordie Howe, Greg Landry, Charlie Sanders, Mike Lucci, Wayne Walker and Lem Barney.

Columnists Bob Talbert and Charlie Manos.

Broadcasters J.P. McCarthy, Kelly Burke, Jerry Hodak and Sonny Eliot.

Museum director Willis F. Woods.

New man-in-the-news Michael Garofalo, "Mr. February," a crane operator.

Former Miss America Pam Eldred and Colleen Howe, wife of the hockey great.

Mayor and Mrs. Roman S. Gribbs of Detroit will describe some of the new fashions for the FASH-BASH III audience.

AMONG the 50 or so other celebrities joining the party goers will be nearly every D.J. personality in the market, civic dignitaries, including judges and councilmen, Broadway and nightclub performers who are in town, and as many Lion players as the runway stars can talk into coming. The Red Wings, Tigers and Pistons are on the road.

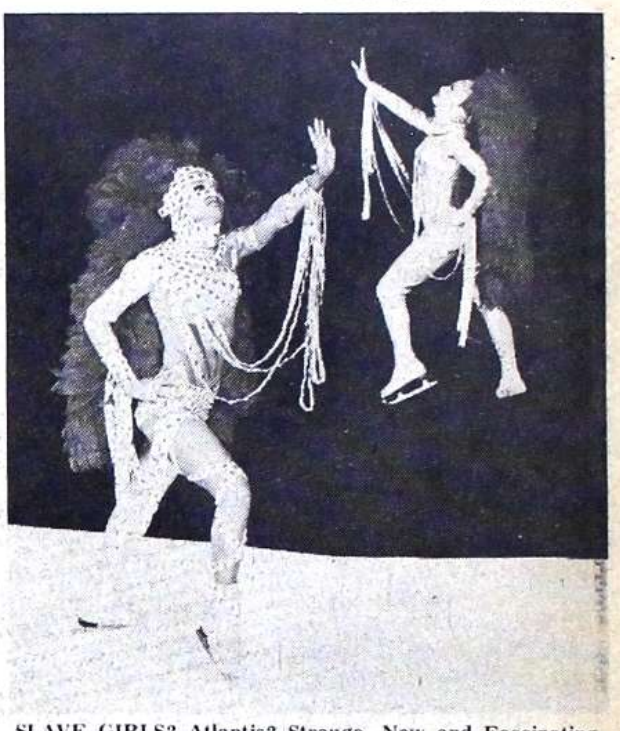

President of the Junior Council is James Avery Smith of Detroit, and Thomas Schoenitz of Grosse Pointe is general chairman of FASH-BASH III.

SLAVE GIRLS? Atlantis? Strange, New and Fascinating World? Where? When? The answers to these questions with added beauty, excitement and laughter are in the newest and latest edition of Ice Capades, opening at the Olympia Stadium Tuesday, March 20, through Tuesday, March 27, for 11 performances.

Ice Capades starts at Olympia Tues.

With the advent of movies and television, most spectacles are pre-wrapped and pre-packaged. They're synthetic, celluloid visions of an artificial world. Even the laughter is canned.

But there are exceptions. Some shows still exist where real live people entertain real live audiences, like the 33rd edition of the fabulous Ice Capades opening at the Olympia Stadium Tuesday, March 20, through Tuesday, March 27.

HEADLINING the skating cast and making their professional debut are Jo Jo Starbuck and Ken Shelley, three-time U.S. national pair champions. These bright new athletes will each do a feature solo number in addition to two brilliant skating pair performances.

Shelley is also the 1972 U.S. National Men's Singles Champion, and first male skater to win both the National Singles and Pair Gold Medals in 32 years.

Comedy this year is provided by tramp Freddie Trenkler, also known as "The Bouncing Ball of the Ice."

School initiates happy-gram plan

A new teacher-to-parent method of communication initiated by the administrative staffs of the Van Buren Public School District around the first of this year is proving to be a "successful" and "worth-while" program.

Aimed at achieving still greater improvement in community-school relationships, this program of presenting to parents the good news, progress and related information of their children while in school first began in the elementary grades, spread to the junior school level and is now to start in the high school.

THE NEW method consists of sending the parent a "happy-gram" saying "Something nice happened to your child today."

The happy-grams, which resemble a telegram with a smiling face at the top, are aimed at changing the image many parents have of their children's schools, School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz said.

In the past, when a student brought a note from his teacher home, it, in most cases meant, he's in trouble. Parents in Van Buren School District are beginning to find out that this is not always the case.

"Happy-grams are given out when the student does something nice or really special," said Samuel LoPresto, principal at the Edgemont Elementary School. "Many times the only contact we have with some of the parents is when their child has done something wrong."

LoPresto's comments also were voiced by other teachers, who have wholeheartedly approved the happy-gram program. Some teachers used the happy-gram only when the problem student changes his ways or for special achievement on the part of the students.

The happy-grams also are given for extracurricular achievements.

Comments received from many parents indicate the success of the happy-gram method of teacher-parent communication.

Children also approve the happy-gram notification program as indicated by their participation in improvement class projects and programs.

Veteran benefits bill introduced

State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced legislation providing educational benefits and home and business loans for Vietnam veterans.

Under the Mahalak proposal, eligible veterans would be able to apply for benefits of as much as $900 a year for each of two years of education in a state-supported college or university, plus as much as $100 a year for two years for books and materials. In order to qualify, the veterans must have served more than 12 months in the Armed Forces or less than 12 months if he is discharged because of a service-connected injury or disability, have been a Michigan resident at the time of his induction, be a Michigan resident at the time of his application for benefits, have been honorably discharged from the service, and maintain at least a "C" average in college.

In addition, a veteran of the Vietnam war would be eligible for a state-guaranteed loan of not more than $10,000 for the purchase of a home or business. The loan provisions would not become effective unless enabling legislation and guidelines are adopted by the legislature.

Mahalak, chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans' Affairs, has pushed for a number of years for benefits for Vietnam veterans.

"We have provided various types of benefits for veterans of other conflicts," he said. "There is no reason why our veterans of this war should be slighted. They too have served and made their sacrifices."

Mahalak said that because of the state's improved financial condition, he is optimistic for passage of his bill in this year's session of the legislature.

Hearing set

A public hearing on a proposed amendment to the township zoning ordinance will be held at 8 p.m. April 11 before the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

The hearing will involve a petition to rezone 2.41 acres of land from R-1A (single family) to C-1 (general business).

Edgemont supper 'success'

The old fashioned pancake supper recently held at the Edgemont Elementary School, 125 Edgemont St., Belleville under the sponsorship of the school's Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) has been termed a "huge success" by the sponsors and by many who attended the affair.

The menu advertised all the pancakes one could eat and more than 900 persons did just that as about 5,000 pancakes were made and served by Wally Johnson and his two assistants.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL Sam LoPresto said: "I was very grateful to see the number of people who came out to visit Edgemont School. The attendance at the pancake supper was up about 200 persons over last year's event due to the hard work of our fifth and sixth graders who sold advance tickets."

All the proceeds from the supper will be used for the purchase of school equipment.

St. Aloysius council picks new officers

The St. Aloysius Parish Council elected new officers recently.

Mike Molenda, former administration chairman, was elected vice-president of the council, while Janice Conrad was elected secretary.

Molenda announced that nominations and elections of one priest, three religious and seven lay persons to the "Archdiocesan Pastoral Council Assembly" will be held Oct. 20 and 21.

Parish members are urged to start thinking of prospective nominees for the positions.

The Archdiocesan council is composed of 376 members who attempt to bring the Catholics in the Archdiocese of Detroit closer to Christ.

Equal rights

Under recent legislation, men whose wives die or become 100 per cent disabled as a result of military service now share equal rights with wives and widows of male veterans under the GI Bill.

AT A DANCE — A special feature of the Romulus Jayteen dance was the appearance of Miss March of Dimes, Debbie Kovel, who delighted the crowd with her rendition of a Tahitian dance.

Jayteens sponsor dance

The Romulus Jayteens netted $166.01 for the March of Dimes Foundation at a recent dance.

More than 300 people attended a dance at the Romulus VFW Hall featuring the music of Flack and Van Coot earlier this month.

A special feature of the evening was the appearance of Miss March of Dimes, Debbie Kovel, who delighted the crowd with her rendition of a Tahitian dance.

Cirriculum is directed

Luke Wegienka, assistant superintendent of Huron Community School District, is directing a curriculum development program at the Huron High School in New Boston.

The program also will include the junior high school's ninth grade classes, he said.

In CAP Creighton promoted

Alan R. Creighton, commander of Detroit Metropolitan Group 16, Civil Air Patrol, has been promoted to lieutenant colonel. Other than the commander of the Michigan Wing, who is a full colonel, this is the highest grade possible for CAP members in the state.

In addition to his group command, Lt. Col. Creighton is also inspector general within the Michigan Wing for all units of the CAP in the state.

training positions in Grand Rapids, Lansing and Newaygo County.

The Detroit Metropolitan Group 16 includes four active Squadrons, all but one based in western Wayne County. Included are the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron (based in Romulus), the Cherry Hill Cadet Squadron (based in Inkster), the Metropolitan Emergency Services Squadron (also based in Romulus) and the Grosse Pointe Composite Squadron which meets in eastern Detroit. Currently, attempts are being made to re-active the Belleville Cadet Squadron which ceased operation about six years ago.

THE CIVIL AIR PATROL, an auxiliary of the United States Air Force, is a civilian volunteer organization responsible for serving the community by providing search and rescue for missing aircraft, disaster relief in cooperation with civil defense and the American Red Cross, and aerospace education opportunities.

CAP also provides the cadet program, consisting of military and aviation training and special activities for boys and girls 13 years old and older.

When not exercising his responsibilities with CAP, Lt. Col. Creighton is a teacher at Lincoln Junior High School south of Ypsilanti. His educational career includes three years on the faculty of Eastern Michigan University plus teaching positions in Newaygo County and Lansing. Creighton currently resides in Ypsilanti.

Van Buren has 19 fire runs

The Van Buren Township Fire Department No. 1 responded to five fire runs in February, according to a monthly fire department.

The fire runs included an apartment fire, one house trailer, one run to a convalescent home, one false alarm and one assistance run to the Van Buren Township Fire Department No. 2.

The total payroll for the month was $803.

FIRE DEPARTMENT No. 2 reported 14 fire runs during February. The runs involved three grass fires, two car fires, one airplane fire, two house fires, one truck fire, one mobile trailer home fire, one convalescent home fire and two assistance runs to Canton Township and Van Buren Fire Department No. 1.

The department's total payroll was $1,116.

Class stages old folk-tale

Mrs. Jessie Hunter's fifth grade class at Beverly Elementary School recently performed a dramatic presentation of an old Norwegian folk-tale.

Entitled "Why is the Sea Salt?", the tale, rewritten as a play, explains the mystery of salty seas that puzzled people long ago. Participants and characters were: Storyteller — Valerie Woodson; Rich Brother — Kevin Wilson; Poor Brother — Troy Griggs; Old Beggar — Mary Holliday; Poor Brother's Wife — Monika McKay.

Visitors — Benjamin Flake, Elaine Anderson, Alice Taylor, Madeline Marby, Gina Carter and Brenda Anderson; Sea Captain — Christopher Lee.

UP with good lawns!

The better the fertilizer, the better the lawn. That's why Scotts TURF BUILDER is America's favorite lawn fertilizer. Turf Builder is made by the exclusive Trionized process which releases its nutrients over a prolonged period. There's no excess surge growth to cause extra mowing, and no wasteful over-feeding or nutrient loss due to leaching. Just a thicker, greener, sturdier lawn. Spread Turf Builder on your lawn this weekend, and see for yourself.

Regional title eludes Romulus '5' again

Sports Meridian

'Hey, it's all over'

By TOM MOORADIAN
Daily Eagle Sports Editor

There is a chant the cheerleaders enjoy turning to at the end of a game when their team is winning and it goes like this: "Hey, it's all over."

Well, with the unexpected demise of Romulus at the hands of Detroit Southwestern, and the downfall of Livonia Churchill at the hands of Detroit Murray-Wright, the last of the area high school basketball teams have hung up their jerseys for the 1972-73 season.

Though the area produced four district cage championships, none of the four managed to survive the tough regional competition. And, that means, "It's all over for us."

We know why sportswriters and editors grow old before their time, but here are some reasons why coaches age quickly.

Romulus's Dave Court has had three shots at regional basketball championships and all three times his teams have been turned back.

But, last Friday night, should have been Court's night. It wasn't, the Eagles lost to Detroit Southwestern, 81-69.

However, one of his players - a starter - was late and nearly didn't make it to school in time to catch the bus; two others had lost their jerseys, and when they finally arrived at Belleville for the game, Court had 17 minutes to discuss game plans, dress and warm up his team.

"I had to call a time out after playing but 30 seconds of the game," said Court. "Some of the kids out there didn't know if we were playing man-to-man or zone."

There's something about a regional championship that makes things happen to the Eagles - all "bad."

But, don't be too eager to send cards of condolences to Court. He has two of the best looking forwards in this area back next year. John Long and James Hall, both of whom are 6-foot-5, could form the nucleus of any winning team in the area and, guard, Rick Hubbert, the transfer student from Ann Arbor Pioneer who knows how to dish out passes and has an excellent shooting eye, will also be back in the Eagle lineup.

The Romulus bench moreover always has a couple of players who are eager to move up, so you can be sure that the Eagles will be back next year.

WHAT REALLY CAUGHT us by surprise, aside from the unseasonal storm, was Churchill's collapse against a Detroit Murray-Wright team. The Detroiters swamped Coach Pat Montalano's Chargers 83-47 to claim the regional title at Livonia Franklin.

Murray-Wright was too fast, came up with a harrasing defense and was just too much for the Livonians, according to our man on the spot, sportswriter Jim Freer.

Ironically, the loss brings up a point that another Livonia coach, Bob Visser, made after his Patriots lost to the same Detroit quintet.

"We just don't have enough experience playing against Detroit Public School league teams," said Visser, "and I'm for more contact with that league."

The only area school that had scheduled a Detroit team during the recently-concluded season was Inkster which managed to get in a game with Detroit Southeastern. Inkster lost it, 82-52.

How area athletic directors will manage to squeeze games with Detroit into their already tight schedules is beyond me, but it is becoming apparent that area teams will have to cope with the "Detroit style" if they wish to have any success in tournament play. The only way to find out what the Detroiters have or have not is by meeting them on the court during the regular season.

The alternative is obvious.

It's 'All-Area' week

The swimming, wrestling and basketball competition may have ended last week on the high school scene in the area, but there's still the important task of picking the best athletes in the area for each of the sports.

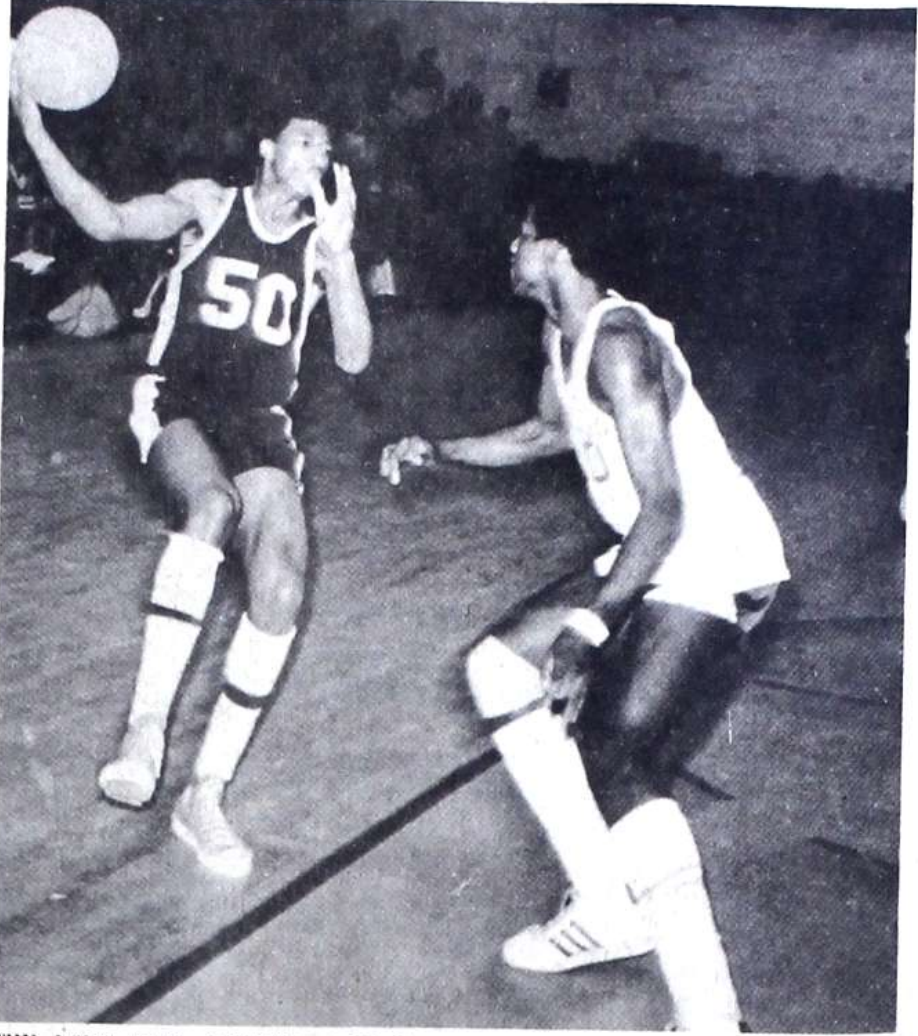

The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers sports department has been busy contacting the coaches, discussing the talents of each and every possible candidate in order to select the 1973 coveted All-Area teams.

We will have amassed all of the information by the end of the week and, hopefully, next week we will unveil the first of our three All-Area teams.

The sports department will also name its coaches of the year in the three sports.

EXCUSE ME, DOUG — Romulus' scrappy senior guard, Tony Owens (with ball) muscles his way into position to snare this rebound from Southwestern's Doug Douglas (30) as teammate Ron Kersey watches. However, Owens and his teammates blew a six point first period lead and lost a 81-69 regional championship game to the Prospectors.

THE LONG WAY AROUND — Finding that the hands are quicker than the eye as he takes the Prospectors' defenseman out of his path, Romulus' Johnny Long (50) proves

Romulus rips Glenn to march into semis

A torrid-shooting Romulus quintet shot down John Glenn 81-58 last night to ruin the Westlanders' inaugural appearance in Class A Regional Basketball play.

Shooting a fantastic 68 percent in the first half, Romulus took command immediately as junior forward John Long hit on his first three shots to lead the Eagles to a 21-11 first period margin.

Up by as much as 22 points during the second eight minutes, nothing could go wrong for Coach Dave Court's team.

The Eagles will now await the winner of tonight's Detroit Southwestern and Bedford-Temperance game to decide the regional championship.

A third period Glenn spurt, led by prolific scorer Dave Carlington, Jeff Brittain and Brian Kaluzny helped the Rockets close the gap to 13 points, but that's the closest they got to overcoming the deficit.

"We were outgunned," said Glenn Coach Gordie Davis, "they had the edge on the boards as well, but when we started to come back in the third period I thought maybe we could pull it out."

That third period Glenn rally also worried the Romulus coach.

"Glenn has a fine team and they can cause anyone trouble. Our boys played a splendid game, especially our front line of James Hall - Ron Bostick and John Long. back in that third period I was worried, but our boys regained their poise," Court said.

Long, Hall and Tony Owens gave the Eagles three quick baskets before Carlington made it a 6-2 ball game. After Hall connected on a jump shot, Carlington came right back to cut the lead to 8-4.

Then Long pumped in a corner shot and dropped in two free throws. He sank another long shot to give his team a 14-4 edge midway in the period.

Basket and Carlington's tapin accounted for the Rockets' scoring while Hall chipped in two more baskets and Bostick had a three-point play that moved the winners to a 21-11 advantage as the period ended.

Romulus ripped off the first eight points in the second period before Carlington's two-pointer broke the monopoly. Then Romulus' Rick Hubbert and Owens got the next six points to tilt the score, 35-13.

The Rockets rode back on the strength of Carlington's eight points while Jeff Brittain supported him with two field goals and Kaluzny collected three in the stretch.

As if things weren't bad enough, Glenn watched as Bostick threw the ball from center court and made the shot that ended the first half.

Faced with a 50-29 deficit, quit. They outscored their rivals 17-9 in the third period as Khollman started the rally with a jump shot. Then Carlington connected, however, Long and Hall ripped the nets for two field goals to keep their team ahead 55-33.

S'Western jolts Eagles

Call it "jinx" or "nemesis" or anything you want, but for the third consecutive year the regional basketball championship has eluded Romulus cagers.

This time it was a stubborn Detroit Southwestern quintet which destroyed Romulus' chances of capturing its first Class A regional title and advancing to the quarter-finals.

Southwestern rallied from a 19-13 first quarter deficit to win a 81-69 regional final game from the Eagles Friday night at Belleville High School.

A packed-gym saw Coach Dave Court's Eagles play one of its worst games of the season as they trailed throughout most of the game.

Court explained: "Because of a sequence of delays our boys were late getting to the gym. Therefore, we didn't get ready in time."

"This gave us a total of 17 minutes to warm up, discuss our game plan and get ready in time. We knew we couldn't play street ball with the Detroiters, and that's what we did. It cost us the championship."

It was the third successive year that the Eagles have faltered in the finals. Last year, after ousting a highly-regarded Ann Arbor Pioneer team, Romulus fell to Allen Park and the year before it was Ann Arbor Pioneer that destroyed the Eagles in a controversial game at Adrian in 1971.

Southwestern grabbed a 6-2 lead early in the first period as Tim Billingslea, Kenny Davis and Anthony Carter found the range while Johnny Long sank the first basket for Romulus.

Long rattled the first five Romulus points, then he was joined by 6-9 center Ron Bostick, who dropped in two baskets to give the Eagles a 9-8 lead.

However, the Prospectors' sharpshooting guard, Darryl

Robertson, Carter and Terry Daniel each connected to make it a 28-24 ball game. Hall's basket brought the Eagles within two, but Davis drove in for a layup to widen the gap to 30-26. When Davis fouled Long, the rugged Romulus forward stepped to the free throw line and made Robertson opened up with a long shot and Carter hit on a jump shot to give the Detroiters the lead again, 32-9.

Romulus then ripped off the next five baskets as James Hall, Bostick, Rick Hubbert and Long came through to put the Eagles up 39-33 as the quarter ended.

The Eagles' problems came early in the second period as they gave up eight points before scoring on Hall's free throw and trailed with 6:52 on the clock, 42-20.

Bostick's tapin tied the score at 22-all and Hall's jump shot gave the Eagles the lead at 24-22 for the final time of the game.

both ends of a one-and-one to keep his team within one basket.

Romulus hit another three minute scoring drought which proved fatal as Robertson, got "hot" and poured in three more baskets to pace the Prospectors to a 40-33 halftime advantage.

"We made some adjustments at halftime," said Court, "and it looked as if we would pull this one out. But we turned the ball over to them at the end of the period."

Davis' three-point play and Robertson's pop shot gave the Detroiters five quick points however the Prospectors lost their sharpshooter briefly when he collected his fourth foul.

Hall, playing one of his best games of the season on both ends of the court, came up with two more baskets to turn it into a 53-47 ball game, however Davis connected on three successive free throws while his and Daniel's baskets offset a pair by Hall and Owens as the quarter ended with S'Western holding a 10 point edge, 62-52.

Billingslea tapped in the first bucket of the period which drew quick response from Bostick and Hubbert whose baskets cut S'Western's lead to 42-37.

Then Robertson and Davis sandwiched baskets between Long's corner shot and, with the score 46-43, the Eagles came back. Hall and Owen's baskets slashed the lead to 46-43 with 5:33 left.

Romulus came within five points mid-way into the final stanza as Hall, Hubbert, Long and Bostick's two free throws cut into Southwestern's lead, then within a minute Davis and Robertson had the Prospectors back on their feet. Davis collected six points - two baskets and a pair of free throws while Robertson had five before fouling out with 2:07 left.

Glenn falls to Romulus

(Continued from B-1) Kaluzny, McBride and then Carlington sank field goals to narrow the margin to 55-39 which called for a Romulus time out. throws by Brittain and Kaluzny's tapin. Romulus made it known early in the fourth period that it wouldn't tolerate an upset and the Eagles scored three quick baskets to soar ahead 65-46.

Though Carlington came back with three baskets, Terry Johnson and Brittain each got one, Glenn conceded the victory midway in the period as both coaches emptied their benches.

Carlington ended his prep career with another super performance. He poured in 13 field goals for 26 points, his team's high. Brittain also was in double figures. He had 13 while Kaluzny finished with nine for the Rockets who also made four of six at the free throw line.

Hall had a season and game high 30 points, drilling in 14 from the field and two free throws. Bostick supported him with 17 and Long finished with 16.

Romulus also cashed in on seven of 10 at the free throw line.

The loss left the Westlanders with a 18-4 overall record, the best in the history of the high school.

Look what Detroit teams did to this area's representatives in post-season playoff—it was disastrous to say the least.

Jak Warren can rattle off local high school wrestling statistics faster than any man I know.

Like, did you know that there were 240 matches that took 16 hours and 25 minutes to complete at the recently concluded Michigan High School Athletic Association's state Class A finals at Calvin College in Grand Rapids?

Or, there were 27,840 pounds of wrestlers who "lost" 1582 pounds per hour? And that only 1735 pounds were first place winners?

How does Warren figure?

Well, even if I've lost you here, he's never at a loss with the right answers. And, if you have the time Warren would mathematically figure to the last pound what the 192 wrestlers won or lost at the state finals.

Did I say "lost?"

There were no losers at the state, according to Warren, who is a zealous Wayne Memorial wrestling fan.

"The kids that got that far are all winners," he said, "just to reach the state finals is something and the athlete should get and get a pat on the back," said Warren.

Warren, who transplanted himself from Maine to Michigan four years ago, became interested in the local prep wrestling scene through a friend whose son competed for Wayne.

"I really was a basketball man," confessed the 35-year-old Taylor resident, "but once I went to a dual meet I was hooked."

Warren said the "head-to-head confrontation between athletes under controlled conditions" appealed to him.

"There is no faking here, as you find in its professional counterpart," said Warren, "and it's a crisp, clean, individual-to-individual competition that is luring more fans yearly."

Warren agreed with what area coaches have said all along: "that the Walled Lake Western Regional was the toughest in the state." And Warren has a huge amount of paper work to prove it.

"Five of the top 10 teams in the state, including Wayne, Romulus and Adrian," said Warren, "were at the Temperance Bedford district. Then, five of the top six state teams gathered at Walled Lake Western."

"The Walled Lake regional was as tough as the three other regionals combined," he added, "and that meant a lot of outstanding wrestlers were left out because they were eliminated at Walled Lake."

How would Warren resolve the problem?

"Stacking one district can be averted by spreading the 30 or so ranked teams around the state. Then, after you have them spread out, you're bound to have more equal representation, strengthwise, on the regional level."

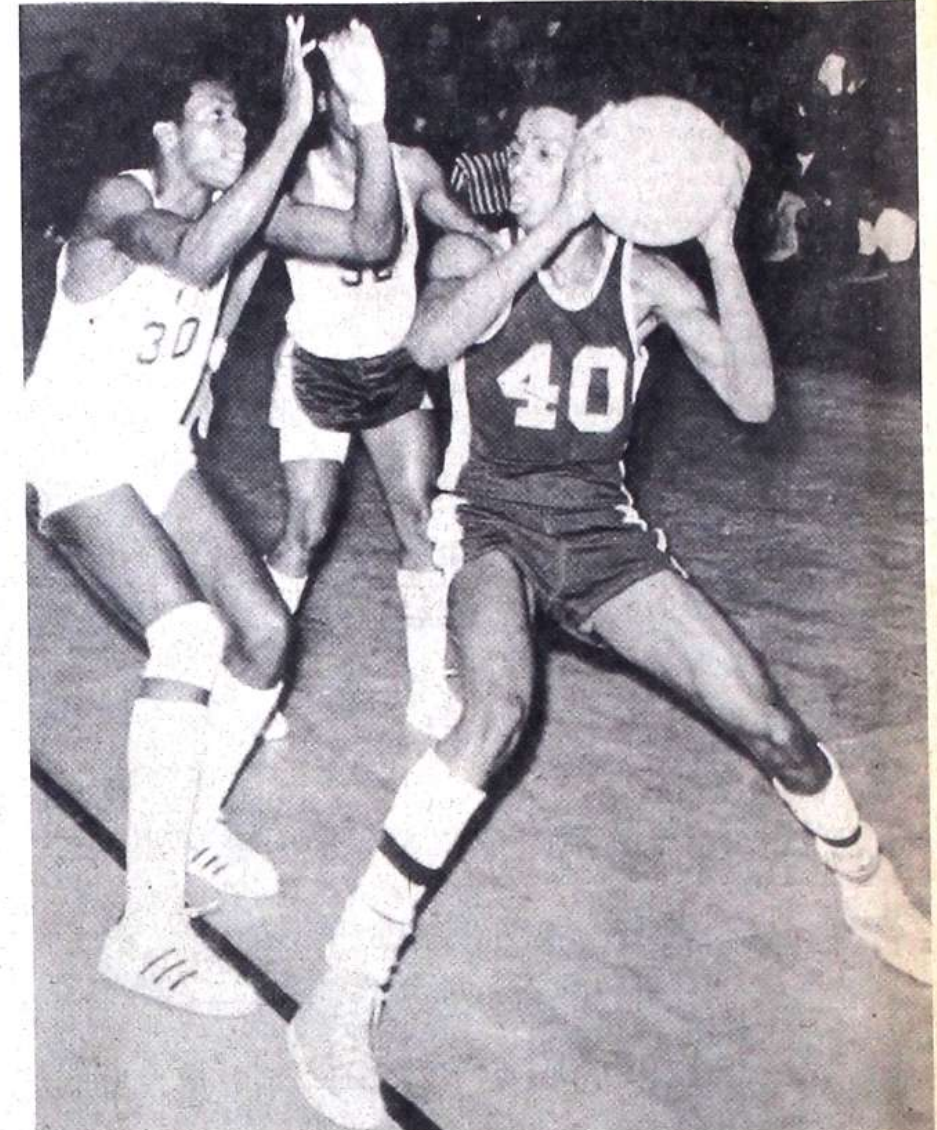

"Some of the good kids won't be bumped out on the district level," Warren pointed out.

Warren would also like to see an increase of dual meet competition which inevitably would help the wrestlers get more experience. He is a strong advocate of each sport having its own league, that is, instead of high school alignments, schools align according to the strength or weakness of each sport.

"For example, the Mid-Wayne League of which Wayne was a member, had nothing really to gain from wrestling in that league because the other schools with the exception of Ann Arbor (Dearborn Heights) were relatively weak."

"Wayne should be aligned in wrestling with schools that have comparatively equal strength in wrestling," said Warren.

Gulfstream Park's $100,000 stakes are the Gulfstream Handicap slated for March 24, the Florida Derby on March 31 and the Pan American Handicap set for April 14.

DETOUR AHEAD — Romulus' junior forward James Hall (40) discovers he must find a detour as Southwestern's Doug Douglas (30) blocks his path to the Prospectors' basket. Hall emerged with one of his best games of the season, scoring 20 points, but it was wasted as the Eagles were denied the regional championship again, losing a heart-breaking 81-69 game to the Detroiters.

Athletes are honored at South Junior High

Belleville South Junior High School held its winter sports awards assembly recently.

At the assembly the school's coaches presented team certificates to the players and also made special awards.

John Forsyth, the 7th grade basketball coach, presented special awards to co-captains David Burg and Clark Barker and most valuable player Larry Pingleton.

Richard Leidheiser, the 9th grade basketball coach, named Tom Laine the team's most valuable player and selected Pat Van Buren and Tony Turrentine as the most improved players.

Swimming coach Robert Renton made the following special awards: 7th grade—Richard Tindall, most improved player; Howard Renton—most valuable player; 8th grade—Jenny Koss—most improved; John Ellis—most valuable player; 9th grade—Jerry Welch, most improved player; Farley Parsons, most valuable player.

Roger Clark was named the swimmer who did the most for the team.

Coach Leon Birdyshaw presented the awards to the 9th grade basketball team and Stewart Israel presented the awards to the wrestling team.

Scott Harsch wins best speller title

Scott Harsch, sixth grader at the Edgemont Elementary School, 125 Edgemont St., Belleville, will represent the school in the district spelling bee to be held at the Elwell Elementary School, 17601 Elwell Rd., Belleville, on March 28.

Scott who won the school spelling bee, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harsch of 46080 Lake Villa Dr., Belleville. Scott, who was the runner-up in last year's spelling bee at Edgemont School, competed with the best 10 spellers from the fifth and sixth grades.

PREVIOUS winners of grade spelling bees were Martha Ryznar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryznar, 11535 Ryznar Dr. and Robin Riggs, sixth grader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Riggs, 41985 Expressway.

Scott's runner-up in the school spelling bee was Michael Chen, sixth grader, son of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Chen, 11933 Belleville Rd. The winning word was "performance."

The other fifth grade spellers were Karen Krug, Charlene Cook, Kelly Varga, Sandy Sienko, Leah Moseby, Jim Abraham, John Parker, Carol Lindemann and Marsha Blackburn.

Representing the sixth grade were Cheryl Reed, Beth Watkins, Jan Rockwell, Paul Ryznar, Kathy Kinsman, Cindy Nugent and Jeanne Ensch.

Belleville Chapter 1135; Moosehaven chapter night held March 12 was successful due to the enrollment of two new co-workers, Catherine Cooker, sponsored by Marcella Schmeltz; Linda Akers, sponsored by Lucille Eversole; and Alene Knuet, sponsored by Imogene Duffy. Welcome, co-workers, to the chapter. Our speaker for the evening was our State Ritual Director, Charles Morton of 934. He is also our Pass Governor of Belleville Lodge 934 and is also on the International Board of Ritual Competition of Judges. His talk on Moosehaven was short, heartwarming and interesting to everyone. We take this time to say thank you, Chuck. Cake and coffee were served after the meeting.

We need donations or your help on the Enrollment Dinner come March 25 starting at 4 p.m. Please, if you can help, contact Martha Morton.

Helen Jacobs is having the Friendship Meeting at her home March 27 at 7:30 p.m. Co-worker Lucille Eversole is in Beyer Hospital. Let's try and send a card or even a phone call to cheer her up. Get well soon, Lucy.

Fish fries every Friday night from 5 til 8 p.m. Next meeting is March 26 at 8 p.m. Let's see everyone there if possible.

Veterans and servicemen are cautioned to investigate VA eligibility of correspondence schools before enrollment. A recent law enacted by Congress governs correspondence schools under the GI Bill.

License plate deadline nearing

The deadline of March 31 is fast closing in on hundreds of thousands of Michigan motor vehicle owners who still have not obtained their 1973 Michigan license plates.

Even with sales moving at a brisk pace and far ahead of 1972, an estimated 1.5-million owners still had to obtain plates as of March 9.

On that date, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin reported that 3,295,314 persons had purchased plates as opposed to 2,623,620 on the same date a year ago. That's a decided hike of 671,694.

AUSTIN HAD one admonition for all persons who still have not obtained their plates... "do it, and do it now."

longer the lines will be at branch offices," he said.

To refresh some memories, Austin had a check list of things that owners would have to bring to their branch office to obtain plates.

—Prepared application mailed to virtually all owners last fall. If your prepared application has been lost, each branch has blank applications which the driver must fill out. If he does not have a prepared application, he must bring his vehicle title.

—Proof of insurance — policy, proof of insurance form, or other type of proof.

—Either cash or personal checks, which are accepted in all branch offices of the Secretary of State for license fees. Only cash or certified checks are accepted for the $45 payment to the uninsured motorist fund.

AUSTIN SAID that more and more vehicle owners were obtaining their plates with personal checks.

"To most persons, checks represent a much easier, more convenient method of payment," he said.

While time was running out on the plate sales, Austin reported a "highly successful" mail sale campaign which closed February 10.

Nearly a half-million plates were sold by mail for a total revenue of $9,609,530.

"I am quite pleased with the final figures of the program. It indicates that those who purchased their tabs in 1972, purchased their plates by mail this year and that thousands of others were willing to give the program a try this year.

trying to track down these persons and have located most of them, Austin said.

"Probably the largest error made by a motorist was the man who paid for his plates with a check written for $500. You can imagine the expression on the face of our clerk who opened that application. We figure the man was paying bills at the time, and got his figures mixed up with another bill. Better yet, can you imagine the person who was to receive the $500, receiving a check for only about $18," Austin said.

"FOR THE second straight year we have been very fortunate with unpaid checks. Only about 170 checks failed to clear the respective banks the first time, and, of those, more than half were cleared the second time," Austin said.

Of the 490,000 plates sold by mail, 414,000 were sold for passenger cars; 31,000 for commercial vehicles; 38,000 for trailers; and 7,000 for motorcycles.

Traffic signal to be installed on Denton Road

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees have received a commitment from the State Highway Department on the installation of a stop-and-go traffic signal at the intersection of Denton Road and Michigan Avenue.

Irvin W. VonDestinon, business manager for the Van Buren Public School District, reported the commitment to the township board. The signal's installation will be made possibly by fall, he said.

He told the board that at a recent meeting with the highway department, school and township officials, representatives from the highway department indicated the signal would be installed but said the request would have to go through channels, since one half of the cost would have to be borne by the Wayne County Road Commission.

BOTH the school system and township officials have made a number of requests for a stop-and-go signal due to congested school bus and automobile plant traffic during certain periods.

A present flashing signal at the intersection, which was installed last month, has done little to slow down traffic on Michigan Avenue. School buses are sometimes held up 10 to 20 minutes waiting to cross from Denton Road, VonDestinon said.

In another matter, the township board approved the purchase of playground equipment following the presentation of a recreation report by William A. Loyd, director of the Van Buren Recreation Department.

THE BOARD appropriated the sum of $4,500 for the playground equipment needed in the development of proposed local parks.

The township's recreation commission previously had recommended the recreational equipment purchases.

Chorale picks 2 area students

Two Belleville student musicians have been selected to participate in Youth for Understanding's Chorale (YUC).

The local musicians, both seniors at the Belleville High School are Kathleen Chen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allan Chen, 11933 Belleville Rd.; and Cheryl Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knight, 45 E. Wabash St.

The Youth for Understanding's Chorale, is three musical groups which "will spread international peace and understanding through the medium of music this summer."

EACH YEAR the groups alternate their tours between Europe and South America, performing in concert halls, community centers, parks, factories, churches and schools.

REGULAR MEETING
February 12, 1973

The Regular Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administrative Building on Monday, February 12, 1973 at 8:00 p.m.

Members present: Mrs. Doris Roe, Mr. Charles Bole, Dr. Richard Muse, Mr. Elwood Bos, and Mr. Lynne Hamilton. Also present were Superintendent Kaulitz and Business Manager Von Destinon. Absent: Mr. James Sayre and Mr. Robert Archer.

Minutes of the previous meeting were approved and ordered filed.

Motion by Roe, supported by Muse, to approve all bills as submitted for payment. Motion carried.

Superintendent Kaulitz discussed the Wayne County Intermediate School District "Summaries and Surveys" report. According to the summary regarding the per pupil cost of operation for the 1971-72 school year, Van Buren School District spent $753.67. This placed Van Buren 32nd from the top among Wayne County's 36 school districts. Highest cost per pupil was River Rouge with $1419.33 and lowest was the Gibraltar School District with $690.65.

In the summary pertaining to millage for school operation, Van Buren's 23.65 mills ranked 25th from the top in Wayne County with Highland Park's 36.9 mills highest and Detroit's 15.51 mills lowest.

Superintendent Kaulitz discussed the resolution to hold a special election on Wednesday, March 28, 1973, for renewal of 5.5 mills for 5 years for operation. Motion by Muse, supported by Bos, to approve the resolution to hold a special election on Wednesday, March 28, 1973, for renewal of 5.5 mills for operation. Roll call vote: Ayes: Muse, Roe, Hamilton, Bos, Bole. Nays: None. Archer and Sayre absent.

The following proposals, made by the Belleville High School Student Council, were considered:

1. That Seniors who finish all graduation credit requirements by the end of the first semester of the senior year may consider themselves having completed high school.

2. That students scheduled for a 6th period study hall be excused to leave school at the end of the 5th period.

3. That a student lounge be provided in the cafeteria.

Motion by Hamilton, supported by Roe, to adopt the Student Council Proposals. Motion carried.

Mrs. Roe reported on the Debate Budget and recommended to the Board an amount of $1200.00 for this purpose. Motion by Bos, supported by Roe, that we approve the Debate Budget for $1200.00 Motion carried.

Mr. Von Destinon discussed paying off the Sumpter obligation to the School Bond Loan Program. Motion by Bos, supported by Hamilton, that the Sumpter obligation to the School Bond Loan Program be paid.

Mr. Von Destinon reported on the progress made relative to the purchase of a new or used dump truck. It was suggested that we continue to look for another thirty days for a used truck.

Mr. Bole asked Mrs. Roe to meet with the Special Education Drivers and report to the Board.

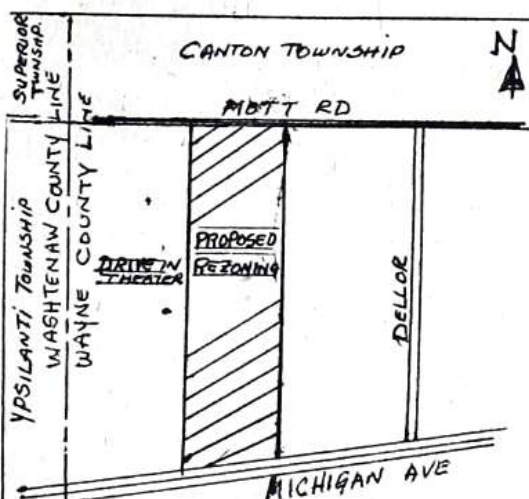

There being no questions or comments from the visitors, on motion duly made and passed, the meeting was adjourned.

Van Buren Trustees create Old Township Hall Committee

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees have approved the creation of an Old Township Hall Committee on a proposed restoration of the township's former administration headquarters.

The township board took the first step in the formation of the committee at its March 13 meeting when the chairman and two committee members were appointed. They are: George Craven, 11514 Fisher

St., Belleville, chairman; Mrs. John Wyman, 11800 Sunset Lane, Belleville; and Harold Harris, 12034 Belleville Rd., Belleville.

THE FORMER township government offices were housed in a former grange hall, located at Main Street and Fourth Street in downtown Belleville.

The building was used by the township government for according to the township.

Belleville area interested senior citizens have been invited by the board to contact Craven regarding the proposal.

THE OLD township hall presently houses a real estate agency and offices of the Belleville Enterprise

Trustees okay bid on voting machines

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees has accepted a bid for six voting machines. The bid was submitted by the International Election Systems Corp.

The approved bid called for the payment of $2,215 per voting machine or a total price of $13,290.

A MOTION to accept the bid proposal was made by Township Treasurer Bertram J. Bradley. He was supported by Trustee David A. Garlick. The motion was unanimously approved.

The board also approved the appointment of Michael Manore of the planning consultant firm of Wade, Trim & Associates of Taylor to perform for the township certain functions for $275.

In other business the township board authorized the township engineer to collaborate with the engineers of Canton, Huron and Van Buren Townships on a cross water connection.

The board also:

—Tabled until the March 27 session of the board the discussion and possible appointment of a township morden officer.

—Tabled water tap bids received by the township until the next board meeting to permit Trustee David A. Garlick, who is the township water commissioner and Township Attorney Louis Wechsler to study the bids and make recommendations to the township board.

Romulus man named CAB president

Charles A. Stoker, 30522 Redwood Lane, is the new president for Citizens Against Busing (CAB) in the City of Romulus.

CAB presently has chapters in Taylor, Allen Park, Dearborn Heights, Plymouth, Inkster, Romulus, Detroit and Strettsboro, O., as well as statewide and nationwide individual membership.

CAB is a group member of the newly formed Wayne County Coalition Against Busing, and also a member of the National Council for the Preservation of Our Educational Freedom, a national coalition of anti-busing organizations.

THE GOAL of CAB according to its leaders, is to retain local community control of public schools. CAB has been in the forefront in the fight against busing and the consolidation of school districts as well as the fight against state and federal control of schools.

"Now is the time for the American people to fight to preserve the local school concept. Volunteer help is greatly needed," said CAB President Kenneth Kuhns.

For additional information contact Stoker at 941-0662, Kuhns at 283-3236 or Mrs. Nancy Chaney at 292-8464.

CITY OF BELLEVILLE

COUNCIL MINUTES

SPECIAL MEETING

March 15, 1973

A Special meeting of the City Council for the City of Belleville, County of Wayne Michigan, was called to order by Mayor Smith, with Councilmen Palmer, Boone, Hamlin present.

Councilman Amerman absent.

Th following preamble and resolution were offered by Boone, and supported by Palmer:

WHEREAS, Special Assessment Rolls, more particularly hereinafter described, for the construction of street improvements and sanitary sewers in the City of Belleville have been prepared, reviewed and confirmed by the City Council; and

WHEREAS, the City Council deems it to be in the best interest to borrow and issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of said special assessments and to issue City share general obligation bonds to defray a part of the City's share of said improvements.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, THAT:

1. The estimated period of usefulness of each of said public improvements is not less than twenty (20) years.
2. Special Assessment Bonds be issued in the amount of One Million One Hundred Ninety Thousand ($1,190,000.00) Dollars in anticipation of the collection of special assessments on the special assessment rolls hereinafter in this paragraph 2 set forth, the principal amount of special assessment for each roll pledged for the payment of said bonds to be as follows for the following districts:

Special Assessment District No. A	$428,000.00
Special Assessment District No. B	462,000.00
Special Assessment District No. C	130,000.00
Special Assessment District No. D	137,000.00
Special Assessment District No. S-1	33,000.00

In addition to the special assessments as aforesaid, the full faith, credit and resources of the City of Belleville shall be pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest on said bonds as the same become due. Said bonds shall consist of two hundred thirty-eight (238) bonds of the denomination of $5,000.00 each, numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 to 238, inclusive, dated June 1, 1973, and payable serially, without option of prior redemption, as follows:

- $35,000.00 April 1, 1974;
- $15,000.00 April 1, 1975;
- $30,000.00 April 1st of each of the years 1976 and 1977;
- $15,000.00 April 1, 1978;
- $30,000.00 April 1st of each year from 1979 to 1982, inclusive;
- $15,000.00 April 1, 1983;
- $30,000.00 April 1st of each year from 1984 to 1988, inclusive.

Said bonds shall be designated 1973 SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS.

3. General Obligation Bonds be issued in the amount of Five Hundred Fifty-five Thousand ($555,000.00) Dollars for the purpose of paying part of the City's share of the cost of the aforesaid improvements in Special Assessment District Nos. A, B, C, D, and S-1. The full faith, credit and resources of the City of Belleville shall be pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest on said bonds as the same become due. Said bonds shall consist of one hundred eleven (111) bonds of the denomination $5,000.00 each, numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 to 111, inclusive dated June 1, 1973, and payable serially, without option of prior redemption, as follows:

- $30,000.00 April 1, 1974
- $25,000.00 April 1st of each year from 1975 to 1981, inclusive;
- $50,000.00 April 1st of each year from 1982 to 1988, inclusive;

Said bonds shall be designated 1973 GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS.

4. Said bonds authorized by the provisions of this resolution shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding five and sixty-five one hundredths (5.65 per cent) per cent per annum, payable April 1, 1974, and semi-annually thereafter on October 1st and April 1st of each year. Both principal and interest on said bonds shall be payable at a bank or trust company qualified to act as paying agent designated by the purchaser of the bonds. For the special assessment bonds the liability of each special assessment district shall be limited to the principal amount set forth above and interest thereon.

5. There shall be levied on the tax rolls of the City of Belleville for the purpose of providing the funds for the payment of the principal and interest on the general obligation bonds authorized by this resolution, each year commencing with the year 1973, a sum sufficient to pay the principal and interest on said bonds before the time of the next tax collection. The proceeds of the collection of said tax levy shall be deposited in the debt retirement fund of the City and shall be allocated on the books and records of the City for the payment of the aforesaid general obligation bonds and shall be used solely for the payment of the principal and interest on the general obligation bonds authorized by this resolution.

6. Said bonds shall be signed in the name of the City of Belleville by the Mayor and countersigned by the City Clerk and shall bear the facsimile signatures of the Mayor and City Clerk. Provided, the Deputy City Clerk may so sign in the event of the City is without a City Clerk at the time of the printing and delivery of the bonds. Said bonds, when executed, shall be delivered to the Treasurer and be delivered by him to the purchaser thereof upon payment of the purchase price thereof in accordance with the bid therefor, when accepted.

7. Said bonds and the attached coupons shall be in substantially the following form:

The bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City as additional security for payment of the principal and interest thereon.

PURPOSE OF AND SECURITY FOR GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS: The bonds are issued for the purpose of paying part of the City's portion of the cost of public improvements in certain special assessment districts in the City. The bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Belleville for payment of the principal and interest thereon and will be payable from ad valorem taxes, which may be levied without limitation as to rate of or amount.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $35,100, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder will be immediately cashed and payment for the balance of the purchase price of the bonds shall be made at the closing.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from _____ 19____ to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Pad-dock, Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be agreed upon. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

ENVELOPES: Containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Van Buren expands committee

A recommendation to expand the present Industrial Development Committee in Van Buren Township has been approved by the township board.

Ben Robertson, industrial coordinator for the township, recommended that the committee's membership be increased from six to nine members.

Two of three persons suggested by Robertson for membership on the committee were approved and the third is under consideration pending the clarification on an inquiry made to the board by the township's attorney.

NAMED to the industrial development committee were Milton L. Riggs Jr., 41985 Willow Run Expressway, Belleville, Riggs is principal of the Eberwhite School in Ann Arbor and Irvin A. VonDestinon, 44512 Lake Crest

Dr., Belleville, business manager for the Van Buren Public School District.

In recommending enlargement of the committee, Robertson told the township board:

"As you know, Van Buren Township is growing rapidly and the future holds unprecedented-type growth. We are recognized as one of the fastest growing communities in the state.

"To keep abreast of the present and the future, we need qualified people who have the necessary talent to help organize intelligence growth."

IN OTHER business the board:

—approved the renewal of an application for a kennel license made by Ernest L. Mims of 41903 Savage Rd., Belleville.

—accepted the only bid proposal on the utility-tool box of the water department truck submitted by Boelter Welding Co. of Belleville for $1,863.50 on condition that the bid meets with the approval of the water department.

—authorized Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer and Township Clerk Mrs. Patricia Cullin to hire an electrical inspector to fill a vacancy.

Students plan to attend meet

By SUE MORRIS

Five Romulus High School students are making plans to attend the annual Future Homemakers of America (FHA) state meeting. The conference will be held April 25, 26, and 27 at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Among the regional representatives will be Addell Austin, Sue Burcroff, Eartha Burns, Karen Warfield and Cynthia Washington.

The theme of this year's meeting is "FHA in a Changing World." Attention will be focused on this theme through projects which every participating FHA chapter is expected to present.

One of the topics to be discussed is man's role in the home. Some FHA groups already have hero auxiliaries which are made up of guys, and two of the regional officers for FHA are male.

In addition to the project presentations, leadership workshops and elections for state FHA officers will take place. Romulus' Sue Burcroff is running for the office of first vice-president.

Seniors are becoming busier as the days before graduation dwindle.

Yesterday measurements were taken for graduation caps and gowns in the junior-senior cafeteria.

Money from the latest senior candy sale was turned in today, with plans going ahead for an Easter sale.

The senior trip to Spain draws nearer. Passport pictures have been completed.

With spring approaching, the track, tennis, and baseball teams have held organizational meetings and are scheduling regular workouts.

Just a reminder: Tickets for the April 13 and 14 production of "Finian's Rainbow" are on sale. They may be purchased from any student working on the musical.

Area man files zoning change

A petition requesting an amendment to the township zoning ordinance to allow construction of a mobile home park has been presented to the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

The petition was filed by Albert Rosenblum of Huntington Woods who seeks rezoning on Michigan Avenue between the Wayne Drive-In Theater and Deller Street for a mobile home park.

He told the commission that he would like to put in 183 mobile home sites with a density of 7.17 per acre. He would have two acres for recreation or about seven per cent of the area. There would be 30-foot streets with visitor parking on the east side.

HE ADDED that he would put in a eight-foot green belt on the east and west sides, a 30-foot green belt on Mott Road and a 50-foot green belt on Michigan Avenue. Lots would be 40 by 100 feet in size.

On the motion of Mrs. Betty Jarrett, supported by Stephen Kuchta, the commission approved setting a public hearing as soon as payment of fees for the hearing is made.

HE TOLD planners the land parcel is basically bounded on the south by Michigan Avenue, on the north by Mott Road, on the east by Deller Street and on the west by the theater.

The site is presently zoned R-1C (single family). A zoning change to R-T (trailer park) is sought by Rosenblum.

He pointed out that there is a

JA companies hold sale

Sixty Junior Achievement companies from southeastern Michigan will hold a sales fair at Southland Mall in Taylor March 23 and 24, displaying and selling products that range from monogrammed table glasses at $1 each to scrap baskets made of 5 gallon ice cream cartons, catalog pages and clothes line, selling at $2.50 each.

The sales fair will open at 4 p.m. on Friday and run until 9 p.m. Saturday hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

THREE trophies will be awarded at 5:30 p.m. Saturday to the company with the highest number of sales, the company with the most attractive product display and the company with the most unusual product. Awards will be presented by the Southland Merchant's Association Board of Directors.

A newcomer to the Southeastern Michigan Sales this year is a company called Fitron Co. meeting in Ohio. They will sell zodiac items.

JUNIOR Achievement is a worldwide organization for high school students that teaches the principles of business economics through the experience of running a small-scale business.

J.A. of Southeastern Michigan has business centers in the six counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Washtenaw and Monroe, with headquarters in Detroit.

Realtor plans homes in area

A proposed subdivision in Van Buren Township of single-family homes is being contemplated by a Belleville area realtor.

An initial presentation of data relative to the proposed subdivision was submitted to the Van Buren Township Planning Commission at its March 7 session.

PRESENTATION was made by Seymour Fenster of Oxbow Homes, Inc., of 405 Main St., Belleville, who wanted to get the feelings of the planning commissioners on the proposal.

Fenster told the commissioners that he owned 23 acres of land in the township and would like to build homes in the $30,000 to $35,000 class. The homes would be built on minimum lot sizes, some 8' by 200 feet, 90 by 250 feet, and 100 by 250 feet.

THE HOMES would be 1,200 to 1,300 square feet for ranch-type dwelling.

Fenster was asked by the commission if there are sewers at the land site. He replied that there is none but that drainage is best in the southern part of the township. The homes would have septic tanks.

Fenster was told that the Wayne County Board of Health would not approve septic tanks.

Donald Carlson, commission member, said he would like to see some single-family homes going up in the township, but added that developers come in to meetings give us "a big talk about how they are going to do one thing and then turn around and do another, like reducing the lot sizes."

Fenster told the commission that it would not be feasible to build small houses on large lots and that there would not be any lots smaller than 80 feet wide.

Inasmuch as there was no direct opposition to the proposed single-family buildings, Fenster decided to go through channels to get rezoning for the proposal.

Stroke programs announced

"After A Stroke — Much To Do" is the topic of the first of four programs to be sponsored by the Stroke Committee of the Southern Wayne County Heart Unit, Michigan Heart Association.

Designed to provide information and guidance to the relatives and friends of stroke patients, the programs will be held at the Heart Information Center, 1805 Ford Ave., Wyandotte.

The first program will begin at 1:30 p.m. April 11. Subsequent programs will be on alternate Wednesdays, also at 1:30 p.m., April 25, May 9 and May 23.

Trenton man dies in area

Albert G. Woods, 20, of 2989 Parkway Ave., Trenton, was fatally injured early Tuesday morning in the westbound lane of the I-94 Expressway, west of Haggerty Road, in Van Buren Township.

Woods who was attempting to assist another motorist who spun out of control due to icy road conditions, was struck by a westbound car driven by William Schwartz, 33, of 27675 Pickford Ave., Livonia. Woods was dead on arrival at the Wayne County General Hospital.

THE WAYNE County Sheriff's Road Patrol Division is investigating the fatal accident.

According to Dr. Doyle Kendrick, Woods and two other motorists were driving west on the I-94 expressway spun out of control due to icy road conditions.

Woods got out of his car to assist the other drivers when he was struck by the Schwartz's car which also hit one of the cars nearby.

Junior-senior banquet held

By SUE MAIANI
On March 13 the annual junior-senior banquet was held in Allen Park. This year turned out to be a great success as there was about 160 students attending the affair. Junior class president, Mike Cameron, spoke to the group. Senior wills and prophecies were read by senior class president, Sue Maiani.
FRIENDS of the School (FOTS) has been very busy with the preparation of fund-raising activities. On March 20, FOTS sponsored the "Craziest Show on Earth," a donkey basketball game.
One of the special attractions was a llama which "lucky" players got to ride. The game was played between the Varsity Club and faculty and alumni.

The Bachelors Club has been busy planning ways to raise money for the Renton Memorial Fund. This fund has been set up to give a Huron graduate a scholarship.
The senior class is on the go planning various activities. The class is in the process of selling tickets for the junior-senior prom which will be held in May.
Committees are being set up this week and all seniors are urged to contact one of the officers for more information.

Two license plates still 'unaccounted for'

One of three license plates reported "unaccounted for" by the Belleville branch of the Secretary of State's office has been located.
The license plate numbered KKB250 is the one which has been located. The two other plates number KKH496 (passenger car) and 7976 ES (commercial); still are "unaccounted for," according to manager John Borber.
Barber said that when the plates were sold the purchasers left with both license plate registrations including the registration that is sent to Lansing.
The purchasers of the two remaining license plates are asked to contact the branch office, located at High Street and W. Columbia Avenue.

Bank begins program

Security Bank and Trust has initiated a financial education program for high schools in the communities it serves.

The unique program of basic financial education is designed to help students become better managers of their personal finances.

Lowell L. Peacock, president, said the program was developed to assist educators in informing high school seniors about the importance of sound money management. He explained that the lowering of the legal age to 18 has increased the need for high school seniors to receive as much financial education as possible to prepare them for their future in the community.

PEACOCK said the program is designed for community involvement rather than for profit, and it does not promote Security Bank and Trust, but the principles of credit and sound money management.

The educational program was initially developed on a test basis with a two hour presentation given in several high schools by Emil Meissner and Ken Piotrowski, both branch managers. Initial reaction has been very favorable and plans now call for expansion of the program to all high schools in the communities Security serves.

The program has been developed with two different types of presentations. A two-hour presentation has been developed to expose as many students as possible to the basics of credit and money management, and a longer five-hour program has been developed for those classes that want a more in-depth background.

BOTH presentations involve the use of a movie entitled "The Money Tree" and the longer program utilizes a student workbook entitled the "Family Financial Education Program."

Both the movie and the student workbook provide useful information for students on the importance of sound money management, and the principles to follow in establishing a sound financial future.

A second financial education program for adults has been initiated in the Romulus school system's adult education program. Piotrowski and Meissner have been involved in the introduction of Security's program in the night classes and plans call for further development of a financial education program for adults. The program in Romulus will run for eight weeks and has received favorable response from the participants.

THE HIGH school program has been presented to some classes in Romulus, Melvindale, Taylor, Huron Township and Lincoln Park. Requests by teachers to have the presentation given to their high school senior classes can be arranged by contacting any one of Security's branch managers, regional managers, or the Marketing Division.

Chamber cruise planned

Great cruise ships, excellent shipboard programs and seminars and fascinating ports of call — all are hallmarks of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce Annual Cruise. This year it is likely that all past standards that make up an excellent cruise will be surpassed.

Another new ship has been chartered, the Cunard Ambassador, sister ship of the Cunard Adventurer which was the Chamber's cruise ship last year.

Cruisers will embark from St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands, and go from there to visit a new port, St. Thomas.

And always a highlight on board ship are the seminars. Again they will be structured around important concerns of our city and the Detroit area.

The 69th Anniversary Cruise will be held from Thursday, May 3, to Monday, May 7, 1973. The cruise is stag, and self-supporting as has been the practice since the annual cruise was instituted by the Chamber.
